This book brings together contributions from some of the foremost international experts in the field of urban morphology and addresses major questions such as: What exactly is urban morphology? Why teach it? What contents should be taught in an urban morphology course? And how can it be taught most effectively? Over the past few decades there has been a growing awareness of the importance of urban form in connection with the many dimensions – social, economic, and environmental – of our lives in cities. As a result, urban morphology – the science of urban form, and now over a century old – has taken on a key role in the debate on the past, present and future of cities. And yet it remains unclear how urban morphologists should convey the main morphological theories, concepts and techniques to our students – the potential researchers of, and practitioners in, the urban landscapes of tomorrow. This book is the first to address that gap, providing concrete guidelines on how to teach urban morphology, complemented by EXAMPLES OF EXERCISES FROM THE AUTHORS' LESSONS.

Incorporating contingency into our fundamental thinking about architecture contradicts the way we theorize, practice, and historicize the field. Accidents happen, yet architects rarely let chance play a role in their visions. How contingency play a role in architectural design and thinking? How designers incorporate change in their practice? The forward-facing nature of contingency scholarship, if we give it a name, may embed possible worlds that are more just, more compassionate, and more aware of the inequalities that accompany the uneven distribution of the most vital resource in our times: space. This issue began with the aim of exploring contingency thinking, and is completed from within contingent times, when nothing seems certain and contingency is less a lens than the air we breathe.

A Journey into Eco-Communication Routledge

La vita e la carriera di Maurizio Sarri rappresentano il filo narrativo che segna il percorso di questo libro, analizzando il fenomeno del Sarrismo dalla sua origine mediatica alla sua diffusione virale. Un cammino che muove i passi tra le nuove dinamiche del giornalismo, quello dell'era digitale, in cui gli evoluti modelli di comunicazione si aprono alla manipolazione dell'informazione come strumento di marketing, nella "fabbrica della fede", in funzione della monetizzazione. E proprio il rapporto tra sacro e profano che lega i tifosi allo sport - con i suoi valori, i suoi luoghi, i suoi simboli, i suoi messaggi e i suoi rituali - diventa il tema privilegiato per raccontare i miti su cui i brand costruiscono le loro storie, per farne religione, tracciando la strada per le altre industrie e spiegando il Fanismo, il culto universale nell'era della disintermediazione.

"Since the early 1980s, the novel has been deemed by many Italian women writers to be the most apt vehicle for creating positive images of the future of women. The novel becomes the space for confession, while at the same time allowing greater expressive freedom. There is no longer one voice for the "'feminine role'" and, by creating heroines who are also intellectuals, these authors offer their readers models of alternative versions of self. This study is a partial inventory of the new women's narrative and aims to provide a broad literary framework through which both the general reader and the student can appreciate the characteristics and innovations of contemporary Italian women's fiction. The writers chosen for this study (Ginerva Bompiani, Edith Bruck, Paola Capriolo, Francesca Duranti, Rosetta Loy, Giuliana Morandini, Marta Morazzoni, Anna Maria Ortese, Sandra Petrignani, Fabrizia Ramondino, Elisabetta Rasy and Francesca Sanvitale) have achieved both critical acclaim and public recognition and their texts show the richness of voices, topics and structures in Italian women's writing today."

MuVi4. Video and moving image on synesthesia and visual music FrancoAngeli Make small changes to your surroundings and create extraordinary happiness in your life with groundbreaking research from designer and TED star Ingrid Fetell Lee. Next Big Idea Club selection—chosen by Malcolm Gladwell, Susan Cain, Dan Pink, and Adam Grant as one of the "two most groundbreaking new nonfiction reads of the season!" "This book has the power to change everything! Writing with depth, wit, and insight, Ingrid Fetell Lee shares all you need to know in order to create external environments that give rise to inner joy." —Susan Cain, author of Quiet and founder of Quiet Revolution Have you ever wondered why we stop to watch the orange glow that arrives before sunset, or why we flock to see cherry blossoms bloom in spring? Is there a reason that people—regardless of gender, age, culture, or ethnicity—are mesmerized by baby animals, and can't help but smile when they see a burst of confetti or a cluster of colorful balloons? We are often made to feel that the physical world has little or no impact on our inner joy.

Increasingly, experts urge us to find balance and calm by looking inward—through mindfulness or meditation—and muting the outside world. But what if the natural vibrancy of our surroundings is actually our most renewable and easily accessible source of joy? In Joyful, designer Ingrid Fetell Lee explores how the seemingly mundane spaces and objects we interact with every day have surprising and powerful effects on our mood. Drawing on insights from neuroscience and psychology, she explains why one setting makes us feel anxious or competitive, while another fosters acceptance and delight—and, most importantly, she reveals how we can harness the power of our surroundings to live fuller, healthier, and truly joyful lives.

full colour printing, 106 pages of text & images Mirrorwork Palace experiments with new methods SUSTAINABILITY as a PRE-REQUISITE both in technology and expression of the LOCAL CONTEXT, its history, identity of the site: climate and ways of life in the region, comparing urban growth, new needs, behaviour, customs, means of communication with the SENSITIVITY, peculiar to Islamic and pre-Islamic culture. LIGHT, COLOUR, REFLECTIVITY & SPECULARITY, since 500 AD invented the unique pattern of MIRRORWORK PALACE: in Persia, Rajastan and whole ISLAM world. The project looks at the needs and urgency for a Plan for the NEW MILLENNIUM, but attributes essential importance to the dialogue with the most IMAGINATIVE aspects of LOCAL TRADITION, into which are interwoven the struggles and parsimony, subtleties and flaunted opulence of millennia interpreting, WITHOUT PATRONISING EMULATION OF STYLE, but with self-critical HUMOUR, indispensable and NOT IRONICAL, which is our trademark.

Osservare il disegno, la produzione e tutti i fenomeni connessi alla lavorazione del corallo offre un ' occasione per verificare la fertile fusione tra le dimensioni estetica, culturale, tecnica ed economica che connotano la condizione postindustriale in cui viviamo. Il Museo Ascione è una realtà napoletana di grande interesse, espressione di una tradizione antica e peculiare, che ha le sue radici a Torre del Greco. Questo saggio, nell ' illustrare i contenuti e le ragioni del Museo e raccontando la storia, nonché la proiezione nel presente e nel futuro, dell ' azienda, consente di comprendere le ragioni di una importante declinazione del sapere e del saper fare, e inoltre i suoi legami con la sensibilità estetica e la cultura dei tempi che ha attraversato, quelli con la storia civile ed economica, le dinamiche imprenditoriali e il costume. Sulla base della consapevolezza di queste connessioni, un Museo di Impresa come quello oggetto del presente studio si mostra non solo quale luogo della memoria, della nostalgia e dell ' orgoglio, ma dichiara la propria volontà di essere luogo di progettualità ad ampio raggio, responsabile verso la vita culturale e produttiva del territorio in cui è profondamente radicato, di cui rappresenta una testimonianza di eccellenza.

Insights from anthropology, religious studies, biblical studies, sociology, classics, and Jewish studies are here combined to provide a cutting-edge guide to dress and religion in the Greco-Roman World and the Mediterranean basin. Clothing, jewellery, cosmetics, and hairstyles are among the many aspects examined to show the variety of functions of dress in communication and in both establishing and defending identity. The volume begins by reviewing how scholars in the fields of classics, anthropology, religious studies, and sociology examine dress. The second section then looks at materials, including depictions of clothing in sculpture and in Egyptian mummy portraits. The third (and largest) part of the book then examines dress in specific contexts, beginning with Greece and Rome and going on to Jewish and Christian dress, with a specific focus on the intersection between dress, clothing and religion. By combining essays from over twenty scholars from different disciplinary backgrounds, the book provides a unique overview of different approaches to and contexts of dress in one volume, leading to a greater understanding of dress both within ancient societies and in the contemporary world.

The book provides a series of reflections on the study of architectural preexistences that have matured during the almost thirty-five years of study and research in Italy and Europe. Furthermore, it shows how the discipline of restoration of monuments is all based in architecture, intended in its many-faceted meanings. The methodical approach to the restoration of historic architecture consists in the historical-critical analysis, central nucleus of the study of architecture and is composed by specific in-depth thematic sessions (the historical iconography; the analysis of the constructive features; the constructive model; the volumetric layout; metrological and proportional analysis; the theme of the figurative model; the analysis of masonry; the theme of decorations; spolia and reemployed; comparisons, analogies and differences; the reading of the architectural organism through the synthesis of the monument in time). The author and his team have collected thematic essays on key issues that have great interest not only in Italy but also abroad. From the general concepts to examples of the application of Italian consolidated restoration methodology to the analysis and conservation of historic architecture.

This book provides an original research perspective to the field of contemporary urban conflicts. Even though violent conflicts have transformed cities during the XX century, it is nowadays possible to identify the phenomenon of “ Tensions ” as a specific contemporary both social and spatial urban changes catalyst. Through a collection of essays from various disciplines focusing on international case studies—from India to Europe to Latin America— the publication explores the multifaceted concept of “ spatial tensions ” as a lens for better understanding contemporary urban transformations. While tensions often depend on spatial dispositives and superstructures, they also offer a powerful key for design practices and strategies.
