The Shadow of the Lion is an alternate history/historical fantasy novel set primarily in the Republic of Venice in the 1530s. It is a part of the Heirs of Alexandria series. The book was written by Mercedes Lackey, Eric Flint and Dave Freer and combines elements from the styles of all three authors, such as Lackey's approach to tolerance and magic and Flint's sense of history alteration.

The Shadow of the Lion (Heirs of Alexandria #1) It is the year 1537. The great winged Lion stares over a Venice where magic thrives. The rich Venetian Republic is a bastion of independence and tolerance. Perhaps for that reason, it is also corrupt, and rotten with intrigue. But for the young brothers Marco and Benito Valdosta, vagabond and thief,...

Shadow of the Lions. That is just one question that Christopher Swann explores in this compulsively readable debut, a literary thriller set in the elite—and sometimes dark—environs of Blackburne, a prep school in Virginia. When Matthias Glass's best friend Fritz vanishes without a trace in the middle of an argument during their senior year,...

In the Lion's shadow In The Lion's Shadow After the invasion of France in 1940, a junior Iranian diplomat, the aristocratic Abdol-Hossein Sardari, found himself in charge of Iran's legation in Paris, and set about cultivating German and Vichy officials in order to protect the Iranian Jewish community, their friends and associates.

Shadow of the Lions is believable, tense, and rich. Blackburne's insular community is the perfect stage for this literary thriller, which earns positive comparisons to *Dead Poets Society* and The Marriage Plot. Matthias's tenure as an English teacher dovetails nicely with his memories of being a student at Blackburne.
