In most cases, you will create an ISO 9001 procedure for every process. Many companies write too many procedures when, in fact, they should be documenting these directives as more specific work instructions. When appropriate, create detailed ISO 9001 work instructions for each task that is needed to support each of your procedures. (A good rule of thumb is: if the procedure does not give enough guidance for someone to complete the task, create a work instruction.)

Documented Information -- What is it? (ISO 9001)

Document Control ISO 9001:2015 Explained - ISO Update
ISO 9001:2015 defines documented information as meaningful data that is required to be controlled and maintained by the organization and the medium on which it is contained. Notes to this definition indicate that documented information can refer to the Quality Management System (QMS) and its processes, documentation, and records.

ISO 9001 Clause 4.2.3 Control of Documents

There are numerous non-mandatory documents that can be used for ISO 9001 implementation. However, I find these non-mandatory documents to be most commonly used: Procedure for determining context of the organization and interested parties (clauses 4.1 and 4.2) Procedure for addressing risks and opportunities (clause 6.1) document-control-procedures by ISO 9001 Checklist - Issuu ISO 9001:2015 allows an organization flexibility in the way it chooses to document its quality management system (QMS). With Texas Quality Assurance's Free Control of Documented Information Procedure this enables each individual organization to determine the correct amount of documented information needed in order to demonstrate the effective planning, operation and control of its processes and the implementation and continual improvement of the effectiveness of its QMS.

ISO 9001:2015 documentation requirements: What is mandatory?

Documented Information Control Procedure. The Documented Information Control Procedure defines the methods and responsibilities for controlling documents used to provide work direction or set policy and defines methods for document revision, approval, and distribution. This procedure applies to all documents required by the ISO 9001 :2015 and your QMS.

ISO 9001 Document Control

Although most would assume that by "documented information," ISO 9001 is referred to documentation in the form of paperwork, that is not necessarily the case. In fact, under ISO 9001:2015, Clause 7.5.3 Control of documented information requirements and

Clause 3.8.5, documentation can be in the form of any medium, including: Paper; Electronic

Control of Documented Information Explained ~ ISO 9001

The terms 'documented procedure' and 'record' used in ISO 9001:2015 have both been replaced by the term 'documented information', which is defined as information required to be controlled and maintained by an organization, as well as the medium on which it is contained.
