Just Grace and the Super Sleepover Houghton Mifflin Harcourt

The third-grader Grace Stewart gets stuck with the name “ Just Grace ” when she tries to distinguish herself from the three other Graces in her class. Grace is plenty different, though. She has a “ teeny-tiny superpower, ” for instance—she can tell if someone is unhappy and often tries to fix it. When she concocts an elaborate scheme to help her neighbor Mrs. Luther feel less lonely, however, her good intentions backfire rather dramatically. Headlines such as “ What Happened At Home That Was Completely Surprising ” and “ Spying For A Good Reason Is Not Bad ” keep things lively, as do various lists (“ Boy Things, ” “ Rooms You Can Jump In ”), comic strips, and the author ' s cartoonish spot art. A funny glimpse into a third-grader ' s madcap world of dashed hopes, perceived enemies, possible friends, cats, and sandwiches. Don ' t miss the Just Grace website www.justgracebooks.com with its superpower quiz, podcasts, excerpts, and downloads . . . or the other books in the Just Grace series: Still Just Grace, Just Grace Goes Green, Just Grace Walks the Dog, Just Grace and the Snack Attack, Just Grace and the Terrible Tutu, and Just Grace and the Double Surprise!

A Big Surprise for Little Card

HarperCollins

Here's the first book in the hilarious Moxy Maxwell series, which includes Moxy Maxwell Does Not Love Writing Thank-you Notes and Moxy Maxwell Does Not Love Practicing the Piano. It wasn't as if Moxy hadn't tried to do her summer reading. She and Stuart Little had been inseparable all summer, like best friends. If Stuart Little wasn't in her backpack, it was in her lap . . . or holding up the coffee table . . . or getting splashed when Moxy went swimming. But now it's the end of August—the day before fourth grade. And if Moxy doesn't read all of Stuart Little immediately, there are going to be "consequences." It may look like Moxy is doing nothing, but actually she is very busy with a zillion highly crucial things—like cleaning up her room (sort of) and training her dog and taking a much-needed rest in the hammock. Just look at the pictures her twin brother Mark takes to document it all—they're scattered throughout—and you'll see why it's so difficult to make time for a book about a mouse. Of course our heroine does manage to finish her book, falling so in love with it that she finds herself reading under the covers with a flashlight, late into the night.
