Life is full of challenges- no matter age, gender, religion, ethnicity, or occupation. Some days can be wonderful and rich with blue skies with rays of yellow, and in a single moment, dark clouds and stormy winds push you to the brink of despair! In those moments, we often find ourselves discouraged and in need of words that speak to the heart of the matter; and it is there that we get a glimpse of the smallest rays of hope, waiting to be put together like pieces of a fragmented puzzle. The question for us then becomes, wherein does this source of enlightenment stem? In this big little book, these simply penned words, steeped in hidden pathways, can have the ability to meet you where you are and change life's trajectory. No matter how deep the pit appears or how hot the fire burns, take comfort in knowing that this collection: Poetry Thoughts & Meditations for the Soul, are writings inspired just for you. One of the most powerful gifts we have is that of self-expression. So understanding how to build a practical and healthy sense of self does not end when we face adversity; it merely begins when we overcome it. Here a little, there a little, step by step! The creativity He inspires can become an integral part of our lives when we learn how to saturate ourselves in the Son-light. Your journey in the wilderness has been a tedious one. Won't you allow a force higher than yourself to sustain and refresh your soul? Come, eat, and drink from the fountain. I hope that within these pages, you find a breadth of depth in the infinite source you have never known before. On that foundation, that source will unleash within your inner self unconditional Love, Joy, Peace, and the Hope of a

Nobody's Here But Us is a story about the difference between the truth and a lie; how they can mold our lives and control every aspect of us. The prologue introduces a short story that replaces the Creation story in the Bible. Instead of “ In the Beginning ” , it uses the fairy tale words “ Once upon a time. ” The prologue sheds a new light on the stories and fables that we have heard for most of our lives. The actual story takes place in the mid 1800's, near New Orleans, Louisiana, during slavery. The main religion in the region is Catholicism. Some of the slaves practice Voodoo and worship the African god Dhumballa. The main characters are twin freed slaves, Octavius and Octavia. Somehow, nature has given them the wrong bodies. He has more female hormones and she, more male hormones. This shows more as they get older. Their mother, Ma Onnie, bore seventeen children for her master, Jean-Claude. He grants her freedom because of the many children she has had. Her last set of twins; Octavius and Octavia have her quite worried. She has no idea how their lives will unfold because of them being “ cursed with the wrong body ” . She sends Octavius to the church to learn the ways of the priesthood with Jean-Claude's son, Louis, and she sends Octavia to the Voodoo queen, Renee, to learn the Dark Art. Louis is confused like Octavius about his sexuality and they begin a long term relationship that continues while they are studying for the priesthood. Ma Onnie is unaware of how she has opened the gates of Heaven and Hell on Earth. The children embark upon a journey of a lifetime as they uncover many secrets and lies from the slaves and the masters of the plantation. They have to decide what is really the truth, but will they find out that the truth and a lie are only different sides of the same coin? The approaching Civil War is the Great Equalizer in the story. The thought of freedom comes with a great price. The South lost all to rebuild a new way of life for the slaves and the freemen. Truth and Freedom walked hand in hand as some of the characters in the book finally realizes their dreams

World Bank Discussion Paper No. 302. Presents an alternative way of financing development in Sub-Saharan Africa in order to address the shortcomings of past investment lending. This study discusses sector investment programs (SIPs) as an alternative way of financing development in Sub-Saharan Africa in order to address the shortcomings of past investment lending in the region. The report examines the nature and features of SIPs by drawing on the limited experience with such operations in a number of countries to date, including Bangladesh, Mozambique, Pakistan, Tanzania, and Zambia. A SIP is distinguished by its comprehensive sector coverage, by close coordination among all parties, including stakeholders and donors, and by the requirement that it be formulated under local ownership and management

The Skycrane was the last creation of aircraft design pioneer Igor Sikorsky. In SKYCRANE: Igor Sikorsky's Last Vision, former Sikorsky Aircraft Executive Vice President John A. McKenna traces the development of this remarkable helicopter from original concept and early sketches to standout performer for the military and private industry. Responsible for building the first S-64 Skycrane in 1961 and for supporting its Army and commercial programs, McKenna has written a comprehensive history chronicling a radically designed helicopter that many thought would not succeed. Indeed, initial versions generated no orders. But General Harry Kinnards vision and advocacy resulted in the Skycranes support of combat operations in Vietnam as part of the groundbreaking concept of supporting Army troops with helicopters rather than trucks. In 1971 Erickson Lumber Company acquired the first Skycrane intended for commercial use to move timber deep in American forests. Owner Jack Erickson later acquired the world manufacturing and support rights to the aircraft creating Erickson Air-Crane Inc. A half century after its first flight the Skycrane continues to save lives, provide essential services, and earn daily profits worldwide. Beautifully illustrated with scores of historical photographs, SKYCRANE features interviews with engineers who designed and tested the helicopter and with Army pilots who flew it during combat in Vietnam. This engagingly written work is the definitive history of a unique and important aircraft.
