A Kiss from Heaven was inspired by a true story and written to help children grieve the loss of a loved one. One day Rashana learned that a former classmate had tragically lost his wife in a car accident, leaving him with two young daughters. A few days later one of his girls was seen looking out the window at the graveyard nestled in beside the little church across the street from where they lived. It was Rashana's compassion for those girls that brought A Kiss from Heaven to life.

Alone in Deep Space, Jakub discovers a possibly imaginary giant alien spider, who becomes his unlikely companion. The Princess and the Goblin Illustrated HarperCollins Australia

Published by Strahan & Co in 1872, George MacDonald's fantasy, The Princess and the Goblin, details the adventures of Princess Irene and miner Curdie as they outwit a horde of goblins. When her mother fell ill, Princess Irene was sent to be brought up by country people in a large, castle-like house on the side of a mountain. Now eight, she lives with her nursemaid Lootie, and her father visits occasionally. Irene is not allowed outside at night because of the goblins that live inside the mountains. The goblins are night creatures and have hidden themselves away because of some unknown political disagreement with a previous king. The goblins' life underground has altered their appearance to look unusually grotesque, but they've become more intelligent. They are resentful toward humans, especially those of the royal line. The goblins torture anyone with the misfortune of meeting them. One day the princess gets lost in the castle. She climbs a tall tower and follows a humming sound into a room. There, she sees an old woman with long white hair sitting at a spinning wheel. The woman tells Irene that she is her great-great-grandmother and that Irene is her namesake. She lives off of pigeons' eggs and spins spiderwebs brought by the pigeons. Irene tells Lootie about her grandmother, but Lootie doesn't believe her. The next day, Irene goes in search of her grandmother but isn't able to find her and assumes she was dreaming. A few days after she meets her grandmother, Irene and Lootie go for a walk. The two wander too far, and darkness begins to fall. Just as a group of goblins begins harassing them from the shadows, Curdie, a young miner, comes upon the pair. He scares the goblins away by singing loudly, and Irene promises him a kiss at a later date. The next night, Curdie decides to stay in the mines, earning extra wages to buy a red petticoat for his mother. Curdie overhears a family of goblins talking about how they have very sensitive feet. He follows them to the goblin palace where he learns about the goblins' plan to flood the mine and drown the miners. A season or so passes, and the princess gets a prick on her thumb from an old brooch. Her sore quickly becomes infected, and Lootie puts her to bed. Irene wakes up in the night and wanders again to her grandmother's tower. Her grandmother heals her with an ointment and Irene falls asleep in her grandmother's bed. Irene wakes in her own bed, having promised to go back to the tower Friday night. That Friday night, a goblin creature climbs into Irene's window, and she runs out of the house into the night. No longer pursued, she turns and sees her grandmother's light in the tower window and follows it home. Irene's grandmother gives her a ring with an invisible thread made from a spider's web. The goblins catch Curdie sneaking into their cavern, and Curdie is successful at warding most of them off by stomping on their feet. The goblin queen, however, is wearing stone shoes and manages to capture and imprison him. Curdie is left to starve in the goblin prison, but Irene is led to him by her magic thread, and she rescues him. Curdie manages to steal one of the goblin queen's shoes on their way out. Following the thread, Curdie and Irene head up to the grandmother's room. Curdie can't see Irene's grandmother and is cross with Irene for what he thinks is a cruel joke. The grandmother explains that Curdie isn't able to believe yet and therefore can't see her. When Curdie arrives home, he tells the whole story to his parents. His mother relates a story from her childhood when a great white pigeon rescued her from a group of goblins. She implies that the royal line has some magical powers and that Irene may have been telling the truth. On another fact-finding mission, Curdie learns that the goblins plan to dig a tunnel into the castle to capture Princess Irene. Upon her capture, they plan to marry her to Harelip, the goblin prince...

THE PRINCESS AND THE GOBLIN Funstory

Eight-year-old Princess Irene lives a lonely life in a wild and desolate country full of mountains and valleys. Her father's palace, built upon one of the mountains, was very grand and beautiful. The princess was born there, but, soon after her birth, she was sent away to be brought up by country people in a large house, half castle, half farm-house, on the side of another mountain, about halfway between its base and its peak. Her father the king is normally absent attending to affairs of state, and her mother is dead. Irene has never known about the existence of the goblins which lurk in the underground mines, but her nursemaid Lootie does know about them. These goblins are grotesque and hideous beings, who centuries ago were human, but due to various reasons, they were driven underground and became malformed and distorted by their new lifestyle. This caused them to despise the humans above the ground and vow revenge against them. When the peaceful kingdom is menaced by an army of monstrous goblins, intent of revenge, the brave and beautiful princess Irene joins forces with, Curdie, a resourceful peasant boy to rescue the noble king and all his people. The lucky pair explore the mines and battle the evil power of the wicked goblin prince armed only with the gift of song, the miracle of love, and a magical shimmering thread given to her by a beautiful lady who lives in the attic of the great house. But just who is this beautiful lady and what does she want? An ideal story for young princes and princesses aged 6 to 12 who are still enamoured by the world of fairydom and whose imaginations will still run riot with the beautiful descriptions in this wonderful volume. George MacDonald's Victorian fairy tales transformed the genre of fantasy. His work also shaped the next generation of both children's literature and modernism: C.S. Lewis regarded MacDonald as a major influence, and writers as diverse as G.K Chesterton and W.H. Auden acknowledged his significance. His best known story for children, The Princess and the Goblin, tells the story of a lonely child princess and her friend, a brave miner boy, in their battle with subterranean monsters. Along with The Princess and the Goblin, this edition includes four other major fairy stories by MacDonald, as well as a selection of historical documents on the works' composition and reception, Victorian fairy tales, and MacDonald's literary criticism.
