"Information and Communication Technology (ICT) has emerged as an ideal platform for imparting knowledge to a vast majority of people living in a pluralistic society. ... The book covers a wide range of areas of social importance such as community radio, telemedicine, educational television, e-governance, village resource centres, media freedom, and e-content. The author gives a developmental thrust to the field of information and communication technology. The book will be of great use to members of civil society, journalists, community media practitioners, media academics, and development planners in India in particular and developing countries in general."--Back cover.

The Englishwoman ' s Review, which published from 1866 to 1910, participated in and recorded a great change in the range of possibilities open to women. The ideal of the magazine was the idea of the emerging emancipated middle-class woman: economic independence from men, choice of occupation, participation in the male enterprises of commerce and government, access to higher education, admittance to the male professions, particularly medicine, and, of course, the power of suffrage equal to that of men. First published in 1979, this eleventh volume contains issues from 1878. With an informative introduction by Janet Horowitz Murray and Myra Stark, and an index compiled by Anna Clark, this set is an invaluable resource to those studying nineteenth and early twentieth-century feminism and the women ' s movement in Britain.

Blurb for my memoir: What if your life takes a sudden major turn? What if you are not yet ready for the change? All of a sudden, without much preparation and planning, an introvert is driving towards his higher goals. On his way, he faces many ups through downs. How he ends his journey is what you find inspiring as well as interesting. Let's have a short journey with this deeply moving memoir - "Coming Out of Confinement" The novel consists of a variant of chapters as a journey of 2015 and 2017 of Author's life with the hope that what he underwent while writing, the readers will also feel the equivalent while reading if its a successful Non-Fictional Novel. Authors hope readers will inspire with and feel as somehow authors felt.

It is the thought of Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan that is most often presented in the West as "Hinduism." He was a remarkable man. In addition to having been President of India while Nehru was Prime Minister, and the Indian Ambassador to the Soviet Union, he held the Spaulding Chair of Comparative Religion and Ethics at Oxford University. And he continues to be a culture hero of India.

Radhakrishnan's thought developed in the context of his full life. Robert Minor places his thought in that context. His book traces the influences on him and the growth of his thought from his birth in Tirutani to his retirement to Madras. The book contains a complete bibliography of Radhakrishnan's writings and of the secondary literature.
