Critical Guide
(Yellowreef)*
Our relationships
with marine
mammals are complex. We have used them as resources, and in
some places this
remains the case;
viewed them as
competitors and
culled them (again
ongoing in some localities); been so
captivated and
intrigued by them
that we have taken
them into captivity
for our entertainment;
and developed a
lucrative eco-tourism
activity focused on
them in many nations. When we first envisaged this special topic, we had two overarching

aims: Firstly, we
hoped to generate
critical evaluation of
some of our
relationships with
these animals.
Secondly, we hoped to attract
knowledgeable
commentators and
experts who might not traditionally publish
in the peer-reviewed literature. We were also asking ourselves
a question about what
mankind might have
to marine mammals,
on our rapidly
changing planet? The
should, humans have
responsibility for the lives of marine
mammals when they are affected by our activities? - is, in our opinion, 'yes' – and
the logical
progression from this question is to direct

research and effort to understand and
optimise the actions,
reactions and
responses that
mankind may be able to take. We hope that the papers in this
special issue bring some illumination to a
small selection of
topics under this
much wider topic
area, and prove to be
informative and stimulating.
