Concepts and Applications for New Ventures Springer

One of the primary reasons most often cited for the failure of a new venture is the entrepreneur's inability to identify and exploit the 'right idea'. This is directly connected to the concepts and principles of marketing, specifically: knowing what to produce and knowing what not to produce. Additionally, even if the entrepreneur has the right idea, many experts cite weak marketing efforts (marketing execution) as another reason for venture failure. Marketing for Entrepreneurs moves beyond the classic 4Ps and demonstrates the application of marketing in an entrepreneurial context. Traditional marketing texts are incapable of addressing marketing concepts directly applicable to the entrepreneur's unique situation. Furthermore, general entrepreneurship books are also not applicable because they tend to focus on management teams or the development of business plans while failing to address critical marketing dimensions. For market researchers, the question is not should they use the Internet, but rather how they should use the Internet. Internet Marketing Intelligence: Research Tools, Techniques & Resources, 1/e, shows researchers exactly how to do this. This specialized, practically focused, succinct, flexible, "how-to" text shows researchers how to document the resources, delineate the tools, and to demonstrate the techniques utilized when conducting marketing research on and through the Internet. Traditional marketing courses continue to introduce the "e" factor into their classrooms as the Internet integrates itself into these subject areas, and, unlike other texts in this area, Internet Marketing Intelligence provides in-depth coverage of online market research concepts and techniques that help marketing students obtain timely and accurate information necessary to orchestrate the marketing mix. Using a step-by-step approach, the text demonstrates how to utilize the Internet to target customers and create and implement marketing plans. The foundations ("whens, wheres & hows") of how the Internet assists marketing practitioners in their essential tasks of gathering, evaluating and applying marketing intelligence is also explored both in the text. Regular updates on the Internet Marketing Intelligence website <http://www.mhhe.com/forrest> keeps the text materials current and relevant.

Contemporary Advertising McGraw-Hill/Irwin Consumers, 2e presents a global, behavioural, eclectic and multi-disciplinary coverage of consumer behaviour. Reviewers praised Consumers as the most current text in the field in the areas of technology, research, and illustrative examples.
