Ballerina Dancer Watercolor Art Journal, Graph Paper

Routledge

Daniel Jarvis and Irene Naested highlight the natural association between math and art in a series of practical ideas for the classroom, because when students understand the math/art connection, their understanding and confidence increase in both subjects.

Through innovative teaching strategies and more than 100 rich learning experiences, Jarvis and Naested give teachers a wealth of engaging tools to explore the math/art connection with their own students. This connection is established through examinations of natural and human-designed objects, from how pine cone scales spiral out in a Fibonacci sequence to how geometric shapes combine in architecture to form some of the most beautiful structures on the planet.

My Math Journal "My Math Journal" contains graph pages on the right and "Four Step Solution" templates on the left...followed by a problem page and a reflection page. These pages repeat for a full year of journaling. This journal is designed to bring upper elementary and middle school students into the mathematical learning process and actively engage them in understanding math in both an academic context and the context of the real world. Working in their journals, taking notes and then collaborating with peers are engaging ways for students to master the higher order thinking skills necessary for Common Core State Standards. Writing about math, as they think through the process and document activities, is a great way for students to truly understand math and is aligned with the goals and objectives of the deeper understanding necessary under the Common Core State Standards. And the Four Step Solution template is a great tool for working through problems, in groups, pairs or alone. These interactive notebooks help students become creative independent thinkers, while providing just enough structure to foster confidence and move students towards math understanding. Please look at the Preview -- It is the total journal. The page templates repeat to develop a routine by which students can engage in math and explore math alone, in pairs or in groups. Are you looking for new ways to help your children learn math? In a math journal, children explore their own ideas about numbers, shapes, and patterns through drawing or writing in response to a question. Journaling encourages students to develop a rich mathematical mindset. They begin to see connections and make sense of math concepts. They grow confident in their ability to think through new ideas. All they need is a piece of paper, a pencil, and a good prompt to launch their mathematical journey. 312 Things To Do with a Math Journal includes number play prompts, games, math art, story problems, mini-essays, geometry investigations, brainteasers,

number patterns,
research projects,
and much more.
