Join Simon and Chester in their third adventure as they navigate family dynamics and a very important ghost conference! A hilarious new graphic novel series for fans of The Bad Guys and Dog Man. Welcome to the world of Simon and Chester, ghost and boy duo extraordinaire. Chester lives with his Grandma, his cat Mr. Pickles and Simon the ghost. Lately Chester has been feeling like he's missing out when he sees other families out doing fun family things. So when Chester gets the opportunity to join his friend Amie and her family on a trip to the water park, he is IN. Meanwhile, Simon is off to his yearly ghost conference, excited to finally have something to show off about (haunting his VERY OWN HOUSE, for example) to the cool ghosts. Maybe they'll even accept him into their group! Will things go as planned? Well, let's put it this way: both Simon and Chester are about to learn a thing or two about the old saying "The grass is always greener . . ."

When all hope is gone, can love still find a way? Tucker Simon has given up on love. After a tragedy, it's just not in the cards for him, and he wishes his family would get off his back. He's fine—or at least he thought he was—until a family wedding forces him to address a few things, namely his date, Abby Mathews. She's been put in the 'friend' category, mostly because she deserves so much more than what he can give. But the more time that he spends with her, Tucker begins to think that maybe there is a chance for love after all... Abby Mathews has been in love with Tucker Simon since he walked into her family's bar nearly a year ago. But he's got baggage and heartache a plenty. His one-night-stands aren't going to lessen that no matter what he thinks. Tucker needs a friend, but Abby wants to give him more, and as they navigate their way through a weekend in Florida, their attraction can't be ignored. Abby has to make a choice. Does she cherish their friendship and take what she can get? Or does she go after what she really wants, which is Tucker's heart...

Maverick Simon lost his mojo somewhere between the last film he scored and a nasty break-up with one of Hollywood 's elite. Burnt out, a vacation is just what this California boy needs. His brother ' s empty house in Maine offers the perfect sanctuary. But plans go awry when he meets a woman who rocks his world in more ways than one. She ' s not his usual type—she ' s edgy, opinionated, and downright rude. But something about the prickly Charlie Samuels sparks his interest. Maverick must decide if that something is exactly what he needs, or if the smokin ' hot chemistry they share is nothing more than a vacation fling... Charlie Samuels had always dreamed of leaving her small New England town for something bigger. But that dream disappeared the day her father died, leaving her to raise her younger brother and keep the family business afloat. Now a mechanic, she ' s knee deep in grease and oil, and with a pile of bills to pay, has no time for someone like Maverick Simon—a guy who ' s just passing through. She can ' t deny the tall, brooding, sexy-as-sin, Maverick, causes her pulse to race, but she knows that he ' s way out of her league. So why is she contemplating an affair? Especially when she knows that Maverick Simon could cost her more than she ' s willing to give, namely, her heart...

This book is about the different ways that men and women experienced migration from the Southern seaboard to the antebellum Southern frontier. Based upon extensive research in planter family papers, Cashin studies how the sexes went to the frontier with diverging agendas: men tried to escape the family, while women tried to preserve it. On the frontier, men usually settled far from relatives, leaving women lonely and disoriented in a strange environment. As kinship networks broke down, sex roles changed, and relations between men and women became more inequitable. Migration also changed race relations, because many men abandoned paternalistic race relations and abused their slaves. However, many women continued to practice paternalism, and a few even sympathized with slaves as they never had before. Drawing on rich archival sources, Cashin examines the decision of families to migrate, the effects of migration on planter family life, and the way old ties were maintained and new ones formed.

Globally, children are highly vulnerable and unjustifiably affected by the difficulties afflicting society. They face social, physical, psychological, and emotional turmoil that stems from varying degrees of violence, abuse, neglect, abandonment, bereavement, and other psychosocial needs that often affect their education. Parental and other key stakeholders' involvement is essential in ensuring that children develop to their full potential. Provision of Psychosocial Support and Education of Vulnerable Children highlights the plight of children and explores a transdisciplinary and multisectoral approach in providing sustainable psychosocial support to have quality education that is inclusive of 21st century skills. Childhood is an inimitable experience that is common to every individual child in the world irrespective of their ethnicity, culture, or any other arbitrary extractor we choose to apply. Covering topics such as life skills education, psychosocial support, and holistic integration, this book is an essential reference for education stakeholders, school personnel, private pre-primary schools, teacher training institutions, parents, pre-service teachers, human services professionals, researchers, and academicians.

One night with the wrong woman can change your life.... Jack Simon's road to the White House has been a smooth one until a night with the notorious Donovan James becomes a roadblock he can't escape. Suddenly he's America's number one story and it has nothing to do with politics. Jack's tangled with this woman before and knows they're no good together because the only thing they're good for is a four letter word...hurt. He should get on with his life and concentrate on his job. But that's hard to do when the one thing standing in his way, is the one thing he wants the most... Donovan James, international singing sensation, has made a living singing songs about heartache and pain, two things she grew up on. But it's time to set down some roots and the only man she wants is a man she's all wrong for. A man she's never stopped loving—Jack Simon. They'd had it all once, until they didn't. And yet she can't help but wonder if a second shot together just might be the game changer she needs. Or if old secrets can still ruin the only man she's ever loved...
