Milady's Skin Care and Cosmetic Ingredients Dictionary Milady Publishing Corporation
Milady's Skin Care and Cosmetic Ingredients Dictionary, third edition, is a multi-purpose resource for cosmetic professionals and consumers alike. Part one puts cosmetics in the context of skin care. It provides an overview of skin physiology. In order to understand how and why a product works it is essential to understand how the skin works. It gives an overview of the complexity of cosmetic chemistry particularly with respect to product penetration, and highlights the current challenges facing cosmetic formulators. In addition, it offers comprehensive discussion of the various skin types and conditions in order to help professionals in their product selection. Lastly, it defines common cosmetic industry terminology used by cosmetic manufacturers, professional estheticians, marketers and the media. The second part is dedicated to helping cosmetic users identify the function and purpose of specific ingredients. It is an alphabetical dictionary that lists and describes not only active principles but all other categories of ingredients that comprise a skin care cosmetic. As scientific knowledge of skin physiology and cosmetic chemistry advances, so do cosmetic products. This volume puts everything in context in an easy to read, easy to understand, user-friendly format.

Any successful business has to keep an ear to the ground and remain one step ahead of competitors. Savvy professionals recognize an expanding market and develop the products and services to tap into it. For the esthetician, that expanding market segment is the multi-ethnic clientele and the tool to help achieve success in this segment is Milady's Aesthetician Series: Treating Diverse Pigmentation. Building a successful career in aesthetics hinges on the ability to identify and treat the skin concerns of this diverse population. Treating Diverse Pigmentation teaches treatments for skin of color that include: the causes of aging and how it affects each race's unique facial anatomy; a guide through several different skin analysis classification systems; review studies analyzing the racial differences in the anatomy, physiology, and histology of pigmented skin; and case-by-case studies that help the reader recognize skin diseases and disorders common to people of color. The text was created for licensed aestheticians and other professionals working in skincare, including RNs and dermatologists, as well as students. Considering that the majority of the world's population is ethnically diverse, the aesthetic professional with an eye on the future will not hesitate to take advantage of Treating Diverse Pigmentation. This book intends to make you laugh and feel good. I dedicate it to everybody who believes in or who would like to believe that we live in a world full of magic and fantastic beings such as fairies, gnomes, dragons and leprechauns. As a child growing up, I knew deep inside that they were real and real they were because I believed. The visit of three leprechauns in my house was a real adventure. They lived with me for about fifteen years and they still occasionally visit me to make sure I am well and that I still believe in magic. My name is Marie Lucile Diane Dubé and I am a SHAMAN. I was born in 1931 in a small town in Quebec by the name of Rivière-du-Loup (River of the Wolf). I have Irish blood from my father's side of the family and American Indian Sioux blood from my mother's side. I was raised in Montreal, and after divorcing at the age of 49, I went to live in Hawkesbury, Ontario. This is where everything in this book starts happening. Where did the leprechauns come from? What were they doing in my house? Why were they living with my mother and me? What kinds of tricks they played on me, my mother and some of my friends? One thing is certain. Since their visit, my life has been full of magic and happiness.
