its performance, and the various cultural meanings that might be ascribed to it".

Moho Activity Analysis - e13components.com

Activity analysis is one of the oldest occupational therapy processes. It emerged out of occupational therapists' need to find and or adjust an occupation to achieve some therapeutic benefit or allow a person to engage in a former or new occupational role.

activity analysis is important to occupational therapy but that formal activity analysis is too time consuming. Several therapists recognized the benefits of completing formal activity analysis. The respondents identified selecting activities for treatment which matched treatment goals and client's interest as the greatest values of activity analysis. The development of simple and useful ...
