Jacques Derrida Translated by Patrick Mensah. \"I have but one language—yet that language is not mine.\". This book intertwines theoretical reflection with historical and cultural particularity to enunciate, then analyze this conundrum in terms of the author's own relationship to the French language. Monolingualism Of The Other Or Monolingualism of the Other has many times been viewed as Derrida's autobiographical text. He uses his own experience to discuss language through identity, culture, and colonialism. Derrida states identity is being mistaken for identification and he emphasizes that an identity is never given, received, or attained; only the interminable and indefinitely phantasmatic process of identification endures. Jacques Derrida (Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy) c.Monolingualism of the Other; or, The Prosthesis of Origin.
