The D800 and D800E does more than a regular intervalometer. The D800 and D800E lets you shoot one shot at each interval, or a burst of them. The interval is set in another menu. The default interval is a minute and can be set from one second to many hours. The Select no.of times x Shots menu is as clear as a lens cap.

The D800E is a specialized version which uses a new optical anti-aliasing filter with no low-pass filter effect (no blurring) to obtain the sharpest images possible. Nikon claims that possible aliasing effects (moir é) can be lessened by software-processing in camera or external programs like Nikon's Capture NX2.
