Speaking of travel, if you frequently journey to places that offer breathtaking landscape views, the are two NIKKOR ultra-wide zoom lenses that can capture the drama of those locations: the AF-S DX Zoom-NIKKOR 10-24mm f/3.5-4.5G ED and the AF-S DX Zoom-NIKKOR 12-24mm f/4G IF-ED.

You'll find that either one is perfect for those shots that portray the breadth and depth of the scene.

Even though they are very different in construction, the focusing rings of both manual focusing and autofocus lenses turn in the same direction to make the same changes in focus – that is to say, camera companies have preserved the direction of turning the focus ring from their MF lenses to their AF lenses. With Nikon lenses, for example, you turn the focusing ring clockwise (as seen from the camera) to focus further away from you (i.e., at a greater distance.)*

Although it's an FX format lens, the Nikon AF-S NIKKOR 85mm can take great portrait photos on both DX and FX Nikon cameras. It gives an equivalent focal range of 50mm, making it capable of capturing a viewpoint similar to that of the human eye. The f/1.8 maximum aperture produces a solid bokeh as well as sharp image quality.

As a result, the focal length of all compatible lenses will be 'extended'. Hence, in this case, the focal length of the 50mm f/1.8G becomes the equivalent of a 75mm lens mounted on a 35mm camera. At 75mm the lens could be used as a decent portrait shooter as well.

The Best Nikon Camera Lenses of 2020 [Buying Guide]

1. Manual Focus Nikon Lenses. These will not provide autofocus, of course, and they will also not provide full exposure metering on the D3400, or any other current entry-level Nikon DSLR. You will have to focus manually, and we would recommend using live view and test shots to meter your exposure.
2. Older Autofocus Lenses (AF-D, plain "AF" Lenses) NIKKOR F-Mount DSLR Camera Lenses | Nikon Our Nikon camera lens guide is a great place to start your search for a new camera lens, but we have plenty of other

Lenses for the Nikon Z-mount are Nikkor-branded, and that means you can expect a few things going in. Great optics are sharpness are pretty much a which minimises distortion and aberrations, and Nano
