"Having been born a freeman, and for more than thirty years enjoyed the blessings of liberty in a free State—and having at the end of that time been kidnapped and sold into Slavery, where I remained, until happily rescued in the month of January, 1853, after a bondage of twelve years—it has been suggested that an account of my life and fortunes would not be uninteresting to the public." -an excerpt

From Fruit Shed to Fortune 500: The inside story of ROLM and its continuing influence on Silicon Valley Decades before Facebook, seven years before Apple, four young men were hard at work in a prune-drying shed designing "the world's toughest computer." That was the founding of ROLM Corporation, at a time when the orchards of Santa Clara County were being transformed into what would become Silicon Valley. By 1984—merely fifteen years later—ROLM was a Fortune 500 company with worldwide offices and a park-like campus. That same year, IBM bought the company in the biggest deal Silicon Valley had ever seen. By then, Silicon Valley was the world's center of innovation, with a hallmark culture very different from the rest of corporate America. ROLM set the benchmark for that culture by providing significant financial rewards for smart, successful work, and an environment where employees could unwind—swimming laps, playing tennis, or dining brookside. ROLM's influence extends today, in campuses like those of Google and Cisco, where onsite masseuses and sushi chefs are commonplace. Starting Up Silicon Valley reveals

- leadership's challenges, doubts, and convictions, from start-up to buyout and beyond;
- how ROLM's technological innovations disrupted two industries;
- why ROLM was known as a Great Place to Work (GPW) and how that style can influence today's workplace;
- the dirty tricks that giant AT&T undertook to smash competition that threatened its domain; and
- the hopes and frustrations of an IBM merger, from both sides of the story. Humorous anecdotes and the wisdom of some of Silicon Valley's most respected leaders make Starting Up Silicon Valley an intimate story of one of the Valley's most important and culturally influential companies.

Special Access Programs represent some of the Department's most sensitive information and must be protected accordingly. We can no longer rely on physical isolation as a primary risk mitigation strategy. Threats and risks often outpace our ability to implant robust, multi-disciplinary countermeasures. Cost and timelines to develop threats to our data almost always pale to the cost and time to implement countermeasures. Given the rapid increase in cybersecurity threats and prioritization from the SECDEF, the senior cybersecurity professionals responsible for authorizing information systems to process SAP have identified three security controls which offer mitigations so significant they can no longer be tailored. Beginning in this revision of the JSIG, we are introducing controls that are not tailorable. Historically, the ability to tailor controls has been delegated to the field but senior leadership is no longer willing to accept the risk of high volume data loss. Recognizing there may be extreme situations in which it is not feasible to implement these controls in their entirety, the authority to tailor or modify these controls is delegated to the component SAP senior authorizing official. This waiver authority cannot be further delegated. The establishment of a senior authorizing official for each DoD component will elevate the status of cybersecurity functions so they more effectively influence department-wide strategy, policy, and investments. The Risk Management Framework (RMF) is a framework designed to be tailored to meet organizational needs while providing adequate risk management of data and information systems.

Transformation to the RMF is a daunting task and we appreciate all the effort to date within the Department and Industry. We applaud all the hard work of the Joint SAP Cybersecurity Working Group (JSCS WG) and the spectacular leadership of the individuals who created this joint "coalition of the willing."
