Complete Criminal Law

provides students with choice extracts, supported by clear author commentary and useful learning features.

The explanations and examples in this textbook have been crafted to help students hone their understanding of criminal law. The Complete titles are ambitious in their scope; they have been carefully developed with teachers to offer law students more than information on drugs just a presentation of the key offences concepts. Instead they offer a complete package. Only by building on the foundations of the subject, by showing how the law works, demonstrating its application through extracts from cases and judgments, and by giving students the tools and the confidence to think critically about the law will they gain a complete understanding. Online Resources This book is accompanied by free-to-access online resources for both students and lecturers. - Annual updates - Links to relevant websites - Answer guidance on problem questions and 'thinking points' from the text - Extra exam style questions with answers guidance - Test bank of 200 multiple choice questions - Additional Questions & Answers in Magnetic Resonance Imaging Simon and Schuster The popular QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS IN MAGNETIC RESONANCE IMAGING is thoroughly revised and updated to reflect the latest advances in MRI technology. Four new chapters explain recent developments in the field in the traditional question and short answer format. This clear, concise and informative text discusses hundreds of the most common questions about MRI, as well as some challenging questions for seasoned MRI specialists. The Semantic Web: Research and Applications How2Become Ltd Earn College Credit with REA's Test Prep for CLEP® Human Growth & check your learning progress Essentials of Online Course Design John Wiley & Sons The number of questions asked on question and answer (Q & A) forums like Stack Overflow, Quora, and Twitter, is increasing rapidly. Millions of users visit these sites each month and post their questions. It is no surprise that many of these questions are duplicates. Users may have to wait for a long time to get answers to their questions even though related questions have already been answered. So, it is important to have an automatic way of identifying duplicate threads. On Stack Overflow, users with higher reputations mark questions as duplicate, which are then forwarded to moderators who decide if a question is a duplicate or not. Quora, on the other hand, uses a Random Forest model to identify duplicate questions. In this research, we have built a ML model using word2vec from Gensim, trained on Google's 3 million word news dataset; and Long Short-Term Memory networks (LSTMs), which is a deep learning technique. The trained model performs well, predicting duplicate threads with an accuracy of 84.15% in the experiments. The deep learning model outperforms the traditional machine learning models in terms of accuracy and speed. This model will make it easier to find high quality answers to questions, resulting in an improved experience for Q & A writers, seekers, and readers.

The E-commerce Question and Answer Book John Wiley & Sons

An updated, repackaged

edition of the bestselling divination tool and party favorite - ask a yes or no question, open the book, find your answer - with more than a million copies in print. Should you ask your boss for a raise? Call that cutie you met at a party? Sell your Google stock? Tell your best friend her boyfriend's cheating? The answer to these questions (and hundreds of others) is in this fun and weirdly wise little book that's impossible to put down. It's simple to use: just hold it closed in your hands and concentrate on your question for a few seconds. While visualizing or speaking your question, place one palm down on the book's front and stroke the edge of the pages back to front. When you sense the time is right, open to the page your fingers landed on and there is your answer! Fun, satisfying, and a lot less time-consuming than asking everyone you know for advice. Over 1 million copies in print!
