Grandmother's Fan is the story of a beloved family quilt, told from its own perspective, spanning four generations across 90 years. From the moment it is created, the quilt is able to hear the activities around it. It longs to view its surroundings and the people it has grown to love. A request by a spiritual visitor to the home unleashes events that impact the quilt in ways it never thought possible. In mesmerizing detail, the quilt vicariously experiences the Titanic's sinking in 1912, two world wars, the advent of television, and America's march into the 21st century. The quilt finds happiness in the most unexpected ways and comes to realize just how precious life can be. Grandmother's Fan is a magical tale for all ages, a book that will leave you wondering about the so-called inanimate objects around you, and asking, what would it be like to be a fly on the wall?
