Performance Appraisal: Performance Appraisal For Nurses

The primary aim of an appraisal is to identify personal and professional development and educational needs, with the ultimate aim of improving clinical performance and patient care. Many nurses locally have asked for their annual meeting to include a pay performance review as part of their CPD.

Improving the performance appraisal system for nurses ...
Introduction .
Performance appraisal is a required process in healthcare organizations to ensure that the quality of care is met. This process uses methods to provide employees with the information necessary to determine whether they are meeting expectations or can do better to improve their performance (Huber, 2006). Some of the purposes of nurse appraisal include the following: determine ...

Performance Appraisal: A Supervision or Leadership Tool?
Performance appraisals provide staff members with the information necessary to determine whether they are meeting expectations or can improve their performance to the required level. The process of performance appraisal includes assessing needs and setting goals, establishing objectives and time frames, assessing progress and evaluating performance, and then starting over again (Figure
