More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 2 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature. The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis, articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition. The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957, to add materials of the following decade, to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available, and to re-shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries.

Collecting the World Premiere plays from the first decade of The Williamston Theatre, this anthology celebrates life in the American Midwest. Over the course of its first 10 seasons, Williamston Theatre produced 60 plays, 14 of which were home-grown premieres. Included in Volume One are the first 7 of those plays, including the critically acclaimed "Voices From The Midwest Trilogy." Plays included are: FLAP by Annie Martin, MAIDENS, MOTHERS, AND CRONES by Annie Martin and Suzi Regan, FLYOVER, U.S.A. by Dennis North and Joseph Zettelmaier, HOME by Annie Martin and Suzi Regan, IT CAME FROM MARS by Joseph Zettelmaier, NORTHERN AGGRESSION (formerly titled AND THE CREEK DON'T RISE) by Joseph Zettelmaier, and OEDIPUS by Sophocles, adapted by Tony Caselli and Annie Martin. FLAP "Playwright pens hilarious romp: Bat attack, motherhood inspires Michigan writer" - The Noise ..".filled with one delightful twist after another... A fun and funny conclusion to Williamston Theatre's first season..." Between The Lines ..".wildly funny farce." Lansing State Journal MAIDENS, MOTHERS AND CRONES "Martin and Regan (the latter also serves as director) have created a striking work with a true relevance for women all over our nation, and also for the men in their lives." EncoreMichigan. "This anthemic extravaganza of American womanhood must be seen to be believed." Lansing City Pulse. FLYOVER, U.S.A. "Flyover is a rich array of thoughtful, colorful stories about fathers and their sons, grandfathers and their garages and men and their tools, cars and campfires of years past... most importantly, there is also a tender vulnerability, evoking held-back tears and a sense of what many boys give up to support families and become men." Lansing City Pulse OEDIPUS "Passionate Oedipus succeeds in simplicity" EncoreMichigan.com "Tony Caselli and Annie Martin's adaptation approaches the investigation with desperate severity and an appreciation for the agonies of discovery." The Rogue Critic "The writing is crisp and contemporary (but not too contemporary), and they succeed in making this 2,500-year-old epic tale as personal and accessible as it can be." Lansing City

Pulse IT CAME FROM MARS "Laugh-out-loud comedy" The Oakland Press "Attacks the funny bone Lansing City Pulse AND THE CREEK DON'T RISE "Delightfully daft CREEK will make you shriek with laughter" - Lansing City Pulse "The beauty of Joseph Zettelmaier's And the Creek Don't Rise lies somewhere in its wonderful simplicity. The playwright's fish-out-of-water premise and intricate trio of relationships touches on a kind of real-world uncertainty, giving warmth as well as benign enmity to a skirmish between neighbors." The Rogue Critic HOME "Elements of comedy and drama complement each other well, and the success of this script is in making both feel equally vital to the work." The Rogue Critic "Heart-felt...Heart-wrenching...Poignant. I lost count of the total of stories after the 10th one, not because they were decreasingly interesting, but rather because they became more compelling, more expansive in characterizing the breadth and depth of families." - Lansing State Journal

At the height of her celebrity, Madeleine Carroll (1906-1987) was the world's highest-paid actress. She worked alongside such greats as Laurence Olivier and Charles Laughton, British directors Victor Saville and Alfred Hitchcock, and Hollywood directors John Ford and Otto Preminger. She also did radio and television shows--all of which she abandoned to become a Red Cross worker. Piecing together long-lost facts, the author describes Carroll's almost indescribable life, narrating her personal highs and lows, as well as her fervent commitment to helping others--particularly child victims of war.
