Policy & Politics in Nursing and Health Care - 8th Edition
By advocating for patient rights, nurses began to shape policy. As nursing struggled to come to consensus over the issue of woman suffrage, they published a journal, formed coalitions among themselves and with non-nursing groups, and discussed the political ramifications of both sides of the suffrage question.

Policy And Politics In Nursing

13. Power and politics in the practice of nursing | Nurse Key

As a nurse, I feel very strongly about being involved in organizations and politics. We are here to improve patients' quality of life, which is not limited to their inpatient stay and is affected by their environment outside the hospital, including all the policies put forth by local and national government. We must join forces as nurses to promote a better future for our patients—and for our own families!

As such, nurses have the potential to profoundly influence policy and politics on a global scale. In fact, it is the moral and professional obligation of nurses to be engaged in legislation that impacts their patients. When nurses influence the politics that improve the delivery of healthcare, they are ultimately advocating for their patients.

Nurse Participation in Political Activities: Level and ...

Political apathy in the nursing profession can be attributed to numerous factors, including a lack of knowledge of the political process and public policy formation, feelings of powerlessness, and a perceived ethical conflict between professional values and political involvement.

Influence through policy: Nurses have a unique role Comprehensive coverage of healthcare policies and politics provides a broader understanding of nursing leadership and political activism, as well as complex business and financial issues. Taking Action essays include personal accounts of how nurses have participated in politics and what they have accomplished.

Political involvement in nursing--education and empowerment

Moreover, policy and politics determines nursing itself – past, present and future. It profoundly shapes the practice and workplaces of nurses at local, regional, national and global levels (Salvage & White in press). Most nurses say they just want to get on with their job, and not worry about the macro?level concerns of policy and politics.
