PowerBuilder provides five built-in global objects that are predefined in all applications. You can create your own versions of these objects by creating a standard class user object inherited from one of the built-in global objects. You can add instance variables and functions to enhance the behavior of the global objects.

PowerBuilder compiles automatically When you attempt to open a different script in a Script view, PowerBuilder compiles the current script. When you save the object, such as the window containing a control you wrote a script for, PowerBuilder recompiles all scripts in the object to make sure they are still valid.
