The contingent relationship between actions and their consequences lies at the heart of Skinner ' s experimental analysis of behavior. Particular patterns of behavior emerge depending upon the contingencies established. Ferster and Skinner examined the effects of different schedules of reinforcement on behavior. An extraordinary work, Schedules of Reinforcement represents over 70,000 hours of research primarily with pigeons, though the principles have now been experimentally verified with many species including human beings. At first glance, the book appears to be an atlas of schedules. And so it is, the most exhaustive in existence. But it is also a reminder of the power of describing and explaining behavior through an analysis of measurable and manipulative behavior-environment relations without appealing to physiological mechanisms in the brain. As an exemplar and source for the further study of behavioral phenomena, the book illustrates the scientific philosophy that Skinner and Ferster adopted: that a science is best built from the ground up, from a firm foundation of facts that can eventually be summarized as scientific laws. In 1998, a book was published that was surprisingly ahead of its times. It was called India 2020 and

proposed that India
could soon be one of
the top five
economies of the world. The nation had set off a series of
nuclear tests and was

facing worldwide
sanctions. A new government had taken
charge, and the
economy was facing a tough time. It was not the best of times
to predict that India
had it in her to get on the fast track to development. The vision presented in
the book would go on
to inspire, directly
or indirectly, many
sectors of the
economy to work for
and achieve high
growth. The book has

since sold hundreds
of thousands of
copies. In A
Manifesto for Change,
its author A.P.J.
Abdul Kalam, writing
with co-author V.
Ponraj, offers a sequel. As focused
then as now on his
dream of a developed India by 2020, the
eleventh President of India examines what
we need to get right
to accomplish that
essential goal:
harnessing the
stupendous energy of our youth to contribute to growth, a united Parliament that makes full use of its time for constructive debate and rises above petty party politics to achieve the larger national vision, and a plan of action that looks at development from the grassroots to giant strides in infrastructure and bridging the urban-rural disparity. It is time to leave behind the politics of antagonism and disruption behind, he suggests. As a developed India as befits this beautiful land.

AN EYE-OPENING ACCOUNT OF HARSH MARIWALA'S VISION, MANAGEMENT STYLE AND ACTIONS TAKEN TO SHAPE THE ORGANIZATION Harsh Mariwala, just out of college, joined

Bombay Oil Industries Ltd (BOIL) as the fourth generation scion in his family's traditional spice trading and consumer oil manufacturing business. He learned the key drivers of growing a profitable consumer product business on the field in the inhospitable hinterlands of Maharashtra and Gujarat-the first Mariwala to do so. Alongside, through reading and taking the initiative to learn from mentors, national and global, he soaked up the essentials of building sustainable brands and creating a multi-channel network in sync with the times. He demonstrated vision and leadership in transforming the quality conscious, traditionally run, family commodity business to a professionally managed, branded consumer goods giant-Marico-in the face of well managed international competition in the Indian market. Marico is today an emerging market multi-national with a noticeable presence in the domain of branded health and beauty products, making a difference to peoples' lives in 25 countries.

This pioneering independent effort to assess the state of India's public services from a user's perspective brings together the responses of citizens from 37,000 rural and urban households on the delivery, quality, and responsiveness of public services. While the state's monitoring of service delivery seldom goes beyond tracking public expenditure and physical outputs, this study fills that gap and provides unique benchmarks with respect to five basic services: drinking water, primary health care, primary education, public distribution of food, and public transportation across the major states.

HIV/AIDS is everyone's business. Today is more an issue of society, than a matter of medicine. In this bold attempt that searches for sociological solutions, the gripping real life stories of sixty migrant labourers living with HIV/AIDS in rural Tamil Nadu, India, have been documented. Their socio-psychological aspects have been analyzed using the latest fuzzy mathematical tools like Fuzzy Cognitive Maps, Bidirectional Associative Memories, and Fuzzy Relational Maps. Because of the need to represent the real world, Neutrosophy (the philosophy of neutralities) and its connected structure, Neutrosophic Cognitive Maps, have been employed for their unique ability to handle indeterminacy between concepts. Presented in a lucid manner, this book is an important contribution to HIV/AIDS literature. Telangana Suresh K Govind Computer Awareness is an important section for various exams of the country including IBPS, SBI (Bank PO & Clerk), SSC, Railway, Police and many other state competitive exams. Educational Psychology and Child Development

Infinite Study

The field of educational psychology is primarily concerned with teaching and learning.

Educational psychology has a long historical past and an extensive record of conducting empirical research into the teaching/learning process.

Educational psychology has also been involved with the topics of motivation, intelligence, memory, cognition, intellectual development and evaluation and assessment. Over the past 50 years, educational psychology has been predominantly involved with the learning processes of the normal, average student. However, over the past 20 years, mainstreaming and later inclusion has presented an additional challenge for educational psychologists and classroom teachers.

This new book
presents leading
research from
around the globe in
all areas of
educational
psychology.
