List of film songs based on ragas - Wikipedia

"Ragas" (the word Raga means "colour" or "mood" in Sanskrit) refer to the melodious modes used in Classical Indian music. Each raga rests on five or more notes upon which a melody is built. Ragas can also denote specific melodies as well. The tradition of Classical Indian music believes that ragas awaken different emotions or "moods" in people.

Since melody is so central to Indian music, we are always on the lookout for note combinations (scales) that offer significant melodic potential. These are called ragas, and we know of about 500 ragas in the Indian classical tradition. Ragas are classified in various ways. One system is to classify them under ten parent scales, known as "thaat."
