quality of health care received. In Unequal Treatment, a panel of experts documents this evidence and explores how persons of color experience the health care environment. The book examines how disparities in treatment may arise in health care systems and looks at aspects of the clinical encounter that may contribute to such disparities. Patients' and providers' attitudes, expectations, and behavior are analyzed. How to intervene? Unequal Treatment offers recommendations for improvements in medical care financing, allocation of care, availability of language translation, community-based care, and other arenas. The committee highlights the potential of cross-cultural education to improve provider-patient communication and offers a detailed look at how to integrate cross-cultural learning within the health professions. The book concludes with recommendations for data collection and research initiatives. Unequal Treatment will be vitally important to health care policymakers, administrators, providers, educators, and students as well as advocates for people of color.

Writing, Grade 2 National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Incorporated Help students raise their performance on the Regents Algebra I (Common Core) exam with NYS Finish Line Algebra I. Nearly 300 pages of practice can prepare them with CCLS instruction that follows the curriculum sequence outlined by New York State. Content and organization are developed especially for New York. Topics that are often stumbling blocks for students are covered in detail, starting with the fundamentals. The progression of skills goes from recognizing and understanding forms and processes, to solving equations and inequalities, to modeling equations and graphs to represent real-life situations. Rigorous multiple-choice and constructed-response items give students test-like practice.

Ready New York CCLS. Houghton Mifflin School First Person Fiction is dedicated to the immigrant experience in modern America. In "Behind the Mountains" Edwidge Danticat tells the story of Celiane and her family's struggles in Haiti and New York. It is election time in Haiti, and bombs are going off in the capital city of Port-au-Prince. During a visit from her home in rural Haiti, Celiane Espérance and her mother are nearly killed. Looking at her country with new eyes, Celiane gains a fresh resolve to be reunited with her father in Brooklyn, New York. The harsh winter and concrete landscape of her new home are a shock to Celiane, who witnesses her parents' struggle to earn a living, her brother's uneasy adjustment to American society, and her own encounters with learning difficulties and school violence.
