Religion Explained - Wikipedia

Very often, it seems as though evolution and religion must be locked in a desperate struggle of life and death -- and for some religious beliefs, perhaps that impression is accurate. However, the fact that some religions and some religious dogmas are not entirely compatible with evolutionary biology does not mean that the same must be true for all religions or religion generally, nor does it mean that evolution and atheism somehow require each other.

Religion Explained The Evolutionary Origins

To believe in evolution means that you believe that humans have evolved, not created. God is known as the Creator;

so if one believes in evolution, they would be, albeit subconsciously, denying that God is the Creator.

Therefore, they would be insinuating that the Bible contains lies.

Evolution and Religion

The evolutionary origin of religions and religious behavior is a field of study related to evolutionary psychology, the origin of language and mythology, and cross-cultural comparison of the anthropology of religion. Some subjects of interest include Neolithic religion, evidence for spirituality or cultic behavior in the Upper Paleolithic, and similarities in great ape behavior.

How Do Christians Explain Evolution?

People usually take three basic positions on the origins of the cosmos, life, and man: (1) special or instantaneous creation, (2) developmental creation or theistic evolution, (3) and atheistic evolution. The first holds that a given thing did not develop, but was instantaneously and directly created by God.
