People usually take three basic positions on the origins of the cosmos, life, and man: (1) special or instantaneous creation, (2) developmental creation or theistic evolution, (3) and atheistic evolution. The first holds that a given thing did not develop, but was instantaneously and directly created by God.

Evolution and Religion

To explain a religious belief in evolutionary or naturalistic terms does not ipso facto invalidate the belief that deity exists. Of course, if one assumes that a belief is attributable to a cognitive faculty that is not aimed at truth, then the underlying mechanisms involved in our appropriating the belief would compromise the warrant of the belief.

Very often, it seems as though evolution and religion must be locked in a desperate struggle of life and death -- and for some religious beliefs, perhaps that impression is accurate. However, the fact that some religions and some religious dogmas are not entirely compatible with evolutionary biology does not mean that the same must be true for all religions or religion generally, nor does it mean that evolution and atheism somehow require each other.
