The first step to repairing torn drywall is to remove any loose drywall that is hanging. You can do this by scraping it off with a putty knife.

Make sure you inspect the area when you are done to check for small hanging pieces that you may have missed. You then need to apply a sealer to keep the remaining drywall from eventually becoming loose.

Loose wallpaper has a tendency to curl, especially vinyl papers, so the longer you wait to do the repair, the less chance that a little glue and deft finger work will fix it! Case in point... you apply the adhesive, press the wallpaper in place, and merrily go on to redrywall your living room.
