Rolex produced the Submariner with reference number 1680 between 1967 and 1980. The word "Submariner" was written in red on the dial until 1974, thus earning it the nickname "Red Sub."

A Guide to Rolex Serial Numbers and Rolex Reference Numbers
Reference 5512 and 5513: Gilt Dials. Rolex introduced the reference 5512 in 1959.

Take a look, and you'll immediately understand why this reference endured until 1980. It's clearly gesturing towards the modern Submariner – okay, without the white gold, high-tech ceramic bezel and other luxury flourishes – but the DNA is there.

The Rolex reference numbers can vary between 4 to 6 digits in length. Now, what each of the numbers means, and what each digit position in the number tells us, we ' ll go into detail further on, but let ' s go over them quickly, to begin with. The first two or three digits in the Rolex reference number gives you information about which model it is. This is a huge help since by only knowing the two or three first digits that each model is represented by, you can instantly tell which model is ... Rolex Reference number Guide: The Go-to Resource List
