His name was Rumi, and he wrote volumes of the most exquisite poems about life, love, and loss. Ironically today, as America shuts its doors to refugees, Rumi remains the best-selling poet in the United States. We have entered an era where our emotions consume us, our ideologies divide us, our culture binds us, and our beliefs build barriers.

Rumi was a messenger of truth with high clarity of vision. The only way we can truly honor him is to be as truthful and clear about his life as possible. To cover up or sweep certain parts of his history under a fine Persian rug is a crime against the love, respect and admiration that we have for Rumi. Rumi deserves only the truth.
