I hope you enjoy this coloring book as much as I enjoyed making the illustrations. I recommend using markers, color pencils and crayons. I would also encourage experimenting with color and filling in the spaces with solid color as well as shading. May the sun shine in the hearts of all mankind. Joseph Gabriel Cameron

This story is set in the south of England two years after the close of the previous era and the Great Removal of the chosen ones from Planet Earth. Stonehenge, an ancient monument eight miles north of Salisbury in Wiltshire has quickly become a city in its own right, and from this new city, witchcraft and paganism have spread throughout the British Isles. The ancient stone circle of Stonehenge, believed to be a harbour of potent supernatural power, has been a draw to countless settlers who have built their homes as close as possible to the site. London has become a ghost city since the fragmentation of the British Government, and its close proximity to the North Sea which was polluted with a red chemical due to a huge meteor falling into it, killing all the fish. As a result, London City quickly deteriorated. A hundred and fifty miles from Stonehenge City lies an old mill on the southern edge of Bodmin Moor ('Goen Bren' in the Cornish language) in the County of Cornwall near the southwestern coast of England where the sea is still fresh. This old mill is home to eleven adults and four children. It is a bit overcrowded, but they have lived and worked well together until now! This play is a 'whodunnit' and covers a period of one month. It includes characters from the novels 'As Time Approaches' and 'Time Will Tell'. The sections that contain scripts for role play are printed in italics. The residents of the old mill:Michelle and Tina Carter Michelle and her daughter Tina have no relatives around. Michelle's husband Chris was one of the chosen ones taken from the Earth at the end of the previous era. After this, Michelle went through bitter trauma as she tried to look after her daughter Tina, now three years old. Michelle and Tina eventually met the team at Stonehenge and followed them to Bodmin Moor to start a new life together. Michelle has become a natural leader for the team.Jenny Cartright Jenny's husband was the captain of a battleship in the war between the UK and Scandinavia in the previous era. He died in that war, while in the south of England, his wife Jenny was involved in a car accident which killed Michelle and Chris' first child Jasmine Carter. Michelle is aware of who she is and what she did, but has not revealed this to the rest of the group. Ben and Sheila Ben and Sheila have been friends for a long time, and are younger than Michelle Carter and Jenny Cartright. They were both well acquainted with Michelle and Tina before they met in Stonehenge, because Ben lived next door to the Carters in Winchester before the close of the previous era. At that time, Sheila's boyfriend Jamie was wrongly imprisoned for the murder of a policeman. Ben knows who the true murderer was, but has kept it a secret from Sheila all this time. Ben is in love with Sheila but she does not seem to reciprocate this.Pierre, Venessa and Suzy Pierre is a late middle aged Frenchman. He is also Venessa's boyfriend. Estranged from his two sons, he used to live in relative solitude near Paris. He has severe facial scars due to having been tortured by Cod-eye disease sufferers immediately after the close of the previous era. Later, he travelled to Norfolk in England where he met Venessa. They travelled to Suffolk to visit Venessa's old friend Tony and the child he looked after called Suzy. But this created a love triangle which ended by Pierre killing Tony and secretly disposing of his body. Venessa does not know what Pierre did. Together, Pierre and Venessa adopted Suzy as their own child. Suzy is now seven years old. While at the old mill, Venessa was stung by a scorpust and as a consequence, her left hand and arm became partially paralysed. In the previous era, Venessa had killed two psychopaths who kidnapped her just after she had survived a suicidal surfing experience. And much more follows.....

The Love of Money is as Old as Civilization, or whenever People started Trading Goods and Services. Indeed, it has Produced what we call "Civilization," which is Defined by the Multitudes of Goods and Services, which are Centered around Eating and Drinking for the most Part, as well as Clothing, Houses, Tools, Workshops and Factories, which have Expanded the Horizons of Mankind to the Point of becoming Great Trash Collectors, who now have so much Trash that we are running Out of Space to put it all, while Cluttering Up the Land with Countless Ugly Buildings, Junkyards full of Rusting Vehicles, and Cemeteries full of Gravestones. BUT, where is the End of it? And what are the Lessons that we should be Learning from it all? Was there some Divine Purpose for it, since the Beginning of Time? Is the Glory of Mankind Measured by the Height of his Skyscrapers, by the Mountains of his Debts, by the Number of his Cars, by the Fat on his Buttocks, or what? Yes, what is our Goal, in a Nutshell? Was it all Worth the Effort, Time, Energy, Money, and Sacrifices to get where we have gotten? Where have we gotten? Where are we Going to? Looking down on New York City from the Top of the Empire State Building, it Looks like one Giant Trash Dump, somewhat Neatly Stacked Up with Windows to Look Out of at a Kind of Chaotic Mess with a couple of Streets running through it. No Plan, no Overall Goal, no Logical Purpose, no one in Charge of it just a Giant MESS that somehow Functions, in spite of it all. In Fact, it only Looks really BAD when you go Digging into it, and Discover what is Actually going on down there, in that Hell Hole. Yes, it can be Depressing to Study it for very Long. Therefore, most People prefer to put it all Out of their Minds, and just Live one Day at a Time, and Hope to some God that the Enemy does not Drop a Hydrogen Bomb on it, and Transform it into a Radioactive Pile of Rubble, just beCause some Stupid Ignorant President Tweeted the wRong Message to the Wrong Person, who Spilled his Hot Coffee into his Crotch, and went into a RAGE!

Genealogy of the Mather Family: From about 1500 to 1847; With Sundry Biographical Notices

In the years after World War I, the defeated and much-reduced German Army developed new clothing and personal equipment that drew upon the lessons learned in the trenches. In place of the wide variety of uniforms and insignia that had been worn by the Imperial German Army, a standardized approach was followed, culminating in the uniform items introduced in the 1930s as the Nazi Party came to shape every aspect of German national life. The outbreak of war in 1939 prompted further adaptations and simplifications of uniforms and insignia, while the increasing use of camouflaged items and the accelerated pace of weapons development led to the appearance of new clothing and personal equipment. Medals and awards increased in number as the war went on, with grades being added for existing awards and new decorations introduced to reflect battlefield feats. Specialists such as mountain troops, tank crews and combat engineers were issued distinctive uniform items and kit, while the ever-expanding variety of fronts on which the German Army fought - from the North African desert to the Russian steppe - prompted the rapid development of clothing and equipment for different climates and conditions. In addition, severe shortages of raw materials and the demands of clothing and equipping an army that numbered in the millions forced the simplification of many items and the increasing use of substitute materials in their manufacture. In this fully illustrated book noted authority Dr Stephen Bull examines the German Army's wide range of uniforms, personal equipment, weapons, medals and awards, and offers a comprehensive guide to the transformation that the German Army soldier underwent in the period from September 1939 to May 1945.
