Both worked great, although, from my experience, if you plan on watching the DVD on anything but the Sansui, unless your PC DVD/RW can read VR mode (I'm not sure if any can, a havent really researched it), you need to make sure you are recording in Video mode, not VR mode. Hope this helps. Edited 2-17-04 - Check out this site for reviews:

When a DVD- blank disk is inserted into the Sansui VRDVD4005 DVD recorder, the initializing menu comes up, and when it's complete, we set the DVD timer, or instant record button, and the unit seems to be recording, although we can't hear any noise coming from recorder, but the counter is ticking as though it's recording.
