The Supplement to the Tenth Mental Measurements Yearbook
Gracie Mansion Publishing Co

This book examines scholarship, best practice methodologies, and examples of policy and practice from various professional fields in education and psychology to illuminate the elevated emphasis on test fairness in the 2014 Standards for Educational and Psychological Testing. Together, the chapters provide a survey of critical and current issues with a view to broadening and contextualizing the fairness guidelines for different types of tests, test takers, and testing contexts. Researchers and practitioners from school psychology, clinical/counseling psychology, industrial/organizational psychology, and education will find the content useful in thinking more acutely about fairness in testing in their work. The book also has chapters that address implications for policy makers, and, in some cases, the public. These discussions are offered as a starting point for future scholarship on the theoretical, empirical, and applied aspects of fairness in testing particularly given the ever-increasing importance of addressing equity in testing.

How-to Guide for Team-Based Learning

Springer Publishing Company

This volume provides step-by-step instruction in creating a Team-Based Learning (TBL) module or course. In clear and concise language, the authors describe the content and purpose of each component of a TBL instructional unit. Using the principle of backward design, they then outline the process for creating a TBL learning activity. Practical issues of implementation are reviewed including team formation, orientation, incentive structures, appeals and peer evaluation. The factors that might facilitate or sabotage success are provided as well with discussion of the importance of "buy-in" and organization, getting the right room, the challenge of moving from lecturer to facilitator, and the dangers of over-testing or providing an inadequate incentive structure. In the final chapter the authors provide resources and tips for developing the knowledge and skills to launch a TBL course or curriculum.

To place your standing order, please call 800-755-1105 (in the U.S.) or 402-472-3584 (outside the U.S.). The "Supplement to the Tenth Mental Measurements Yearbook" contains original reviews of tests published or revised since the 1989 edition of the "Tenth Mental Measurements Yearbook." The "Supplement" provides timely access to reviews of recently available tests. It also includes a helpful indexing system that integrates referencing across Burors Institute publications. Indexes of titles, classified subjects, names, and scores, as well as a publisher's directory and index, are included. The "Yearbook" includes detailed descriptive information and reviews for each test and extensive references on specific tests. The tests are listed in alphabetical order for easy reference. The biennial publication schedule for "Yearbooks" and "Supplements" began in 1988 with the "Supplement to the Ninth Mental Measurements Yearbook." The publication of the "Supplement to the Tenth Mental Measurements Yearbook" continues this publication schedule which facilitates timely access to text evaluation information and better meets the needs of test consumers. The "Mental Measurements Yearbooks" are widely regarded as an essential reference for users and developers of tests. Each "Yearbook" contains reviews of commercially available tests published or revised since the previous "Yearbook." The Burors Institute of Mental Measurements, founded in 1938 by the late Oscar Krisen Burors, is located in the Department of Educational Psychology at the University of Nebraska.

Systematic Classroom Assessment promotes a fresh vision of assessment for student learning and achievement. Using a framework that positions assessment as both an iterative, purposeful cycle of inquiry for teachers as well as a coherent system of activities through which students engage in their own learning, this framework for classroom assessment is unique in incorporating self-regulated learning, motivation, and non-cognitive processes. Key components such as assessment for learning, feedback, emerging technologies, and specific content areas are treated in depth, and fundamental principles like reliability, validity, and fairness are approached from the classroom perspective.

Trustworthy information about career assessment instruments and their value for career counseling is difficult to obtain. This text contains information and reviews of a wide range of assessment instruments. The decisions as to what instruments to include for review were based on input from an advisory committee, a review of the literature and of publisher catalogues, and the results of a survey of users. The principles underlying the decisions to select instruments for review included selecting previously reviewed instrument that have undergone extensive revisions or update, new instruments that appear to have promise of extensive use, instruments that could be used by employers to make hiring or advancement decisions, and instruments with proven utility for persons with disabilities or disadvantages. Fifty-two instruments in forty-nine test reviews comprise the heart of this volume. These are divided into six categories: Comprehensive Aptitude/Achievement and Companion Measures; Interest; Values and Satisfaction; Career Development/Maturity; Personality; and Instruments for Disabled and Disadvantaged Populations. Reviews begin with publisher-provided information, followed by a brief critical review of the instrument's strengths and limitations. Also provided is practical information which potential users can refer to in order to gauge the usefulness of an instrument. (RJM)
