Susanna Daniel's sophomore novel Sea Creatures is not really about snorkeling or ancient shipwrecks. Yet this passage above - referencing a snorkeling trip that her narrator Georgia takes with her husband Graham - is so very symbolic of the deeply buried and unspoken issues in their marriage.

Sea Creatures by Susanna Daniel - Goodreads

Susanna Daniel does something very different in Sea Creatures, a novel set in Miami, Florida. She has written a great story about love, marriage, family, death, art, weather and the sea and the disabling effects of sleep disorders. Reading this combination of words, I wonder how she did it. Sea Creatures is a very well-written novel.

Sea Creatures by Susanna Daniel is one of those books that makes you feel lonely while reading it. I don't mean that in a bad way; it's just that there is a lot of sadness and isolation in this book that permeates even the experience of reading it. Sea Creatures takes place in Miami, like Daniel's earlier novel Stiltsville.
