Though it may be an uncomfortable subject, giving is a mandatory part of worship and a major tenant of the Christian faith as we strive to emulate the example of a God who gave - extensively, miraculously, and unconditionally. Here you will find non-denominational Bible-based devotions that may help you to think differently and more positively about your stewardship. With each thought there is a "For Your Tip Jar" suggestion; an idea for implementing each thought into practical living and for bringing about tangible rewards. Worship Leaders or Pastors may use meditations as offertory thoughts to encourage congregations to grow a greater spirit of generosity.

Prayer is a vital part of the Christian walk; it's a must for success in the Christian journey. The Bible is full of examples of how God answers prayer, and it also contains numerous calls for God's children to pray. In Audacious Prayers, author Albert B. K. Appiah offers a handbook about prayer and what prayer can do in one's life, focusing on praying bold prayers and believing God to answer them. It is about petitioning God audaciously and expecting answers. Drawing on many examples from the Bible to underscore that God answers even the most daring of prayers, it shares powerful stories of Biblical characters who were delivered from pain and suffering by the hand of God. Appiah weaves personal examples from his own life about some rather bold petitions God granted. He offers a living testimony of the goodness and graciousness of God, who will answer prayer if you dare enough to believe he can.

Skit #1 "Second Born Day" is a Christmas skit. It lasts for approximately 20 minutes, plus the time for songs. The only props needed are those of standard Christmas Pageant props and costumes, as simple or complex as desired. Skit #2 "With God All Things Are Possible" is a Resurrection Day skit. It lasts for approximately 30 minutes, plus the time for songs. It is the sequel to "Second Born Day", revisiting the same characters. The props needed are: ten large cards with tape on back and one commandment written on each (Exodus 20); A cross on which the Ten Commandments can be hung on. Both of these skits are about a small church in a rural community called Beavers Dell. Part one is the Christmas skit entitled: Second Born Day. Part two is the Resurrection Day skit entitled: With God All Things Are Possible. Unlike many church skits, these are designed for adults and teenagers taking the speaking rolls, while the young children can simply be on stage, dressed up as Mary and Joseph and the others in the traditional Christmas pageant (Skit #1), and also as decorating a cross with Bible verses (Skit #2). The town of Beavers Dell is run by a rather crotchety old man whom everyone knows as Grandpa Rusty. Two ladies he grew up with, Flo and Miranda, are the town's gossips. Grandpa Rusty has a bad habit of running off the pastors who come to town. But one young soul, Albert, is praying.

And God is answering. These two skits are comedic, but also proclaim the Gospel. There are suggested songs listed, but the songs are not provided in these scripts. Standard hymns are suggested as well as more modern songs.
Your own selections may be substituted.
There is room for any amount of songs desired. Breaks are written in the scripts in order to accommodate these songs. But if no songs are desired, the skits still work out fine without any singing. Both skits were designed for the performers to simply read their lines while standing behind a podium, leaving the rest to the imagination of the audience.

A charming collection of short stories, Seasons of Faith lifts up the various seasons celebrated during worship and includes production scripts for chancel dramas and skits intended for youth performances. Included are stories for Advent, Christmas, Watch Night or New Year's Day, Lent, Palm Sunday, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, Easter, Pentecost, and Thanksgiving. They are great as resources for parents, pastors, youth leaders, and church educators; yet, they are mainly designed to be read and colored by a child. Modern versions of traditional legends and completely new stories form a tapestry presenting Jesus' birth, life, ministry, death, and resurrection from unexpected points of view including people (some based on Bible characters and others completely imaginary), angels, animals, plants, and the very soil itself. As each character discovers their part in God's Plan of Salvation, they enable us to discover the miracle of God's love for us all.

Two years after 36-years-old Joseph Gates III was shot and killed in Stockton, California, Kiki, his five-year-old illegitimate son asked, "Where is my daddy, and who is he?" He last saw his father when he was two. He does not remember him or his paternal family. The hidden truth of his biological daddy is no longer a secret. His step-sister or brother told him that their father was not his real daddy. The child is troubled, without his father he is devastated and lost. His father abandoned him. Without a strong father image, most children from dysfunctional home deteriorate. Nurture theorists believe that troubled families are a breeding ground for future juvenile delinquents and criminals. Kiki's father lived in an unbroken cycle of crime. Crime, illegitimate children, insufficient parenting, alcohol, and drug abuse plagued his environment. He spent most of his teenage life and adulthood in detention facilities, jail cells, and penitentiaries for murder and various other misdemeanors and felonies. Kiki is one of the children he fathered amid his long string of paroles. Sharma, Kiki's mother, has determined that he will never tread within the bloody, vicious, crime-plagued footsteps of his father. She is breaking the cycle of crime over her son's life. Kiki's motto is I am a good boy. His dream is to become a super hero when he reaches adulthood. He loves and respects people. Being a good boy is a struggle, but he tries to be obedient. This book is a letter addressed to Joseph. Kiki will never have a chance to read this letter to him. May the words in this book teach Kiki to respect others and lead a responsible, wholesome, and productive lifestyle that is free of crime and reproach always.

The 21st Century has brought a new urgency for Christian women to search for meaningful relationships whee they can live out their faith. This is due in part to our increasingly secular lifestyle and the radical changes in marriage and family life that have isolated and discouraged many women.

Women Mentoring Women offers the solution to a chronic weakness in churches: the lack of involvement of wives, sisters, mothers, and daughters in vital women's ministries.
