"Something Borrowed, Someone Blue" is a pretty good episode, but nowhere near one of my favourites from Season 5 or of 'Murder She Wrote' in general. There are also worse episodes in the show. Where "Something Borrowed, Someone Blue" is most let down is the characters and acting of Grady and Donna.

But she had a nasty habit of borrowing things and not giving them back, just small things, a teapot here, a set of silverware there. So it's quite the shock when she is found dead, murdered by a poisoned bottle of elderberry wine. Afraid the murder will be a blight on the small town, Parish councillor, Jerry Tarrant,...
