The River
Midnight W. W. Norton & Company
In this remarkable and assured debut, Tova Mirvis tells the story of the close-knit, carefully structured world of the Orthodox community in Memphis, Tennessee, a world that unravels when Batsheva, newly widowed and a convert to Judaism, and her five-year-old daughter, Ayala, move in. Batsheva is free-spirited and artistic, and at first the women of the ladies auxiliary discover in her a passion for the traditions and rituals of Judaism which have become stale and routine to them. But when Batsheva becomes close with the restless high-school girls she teaches who are eager to catch glimpses of the non-Kosher world outside, and befriends, maybe a little too intimately, the beloved Rabbi's only son, Yosef, feathers begin to ruffle. When events come to a head, and Batsheva's past is revealed, the women's allegiances begin to split over whether Batsheva should be forced out of the community. Batsheva is an unforgettable character, one who makes her claims on the reader's heart from the first page. The Ladies Auxiliary, beautifully and skillfully told, shows what happens when the outside world leans on a closed community so intent on keeping its children inside its tight walls that it cannot see it is losing them. Jephte's Daughter Macmillan

A novel of searing intelligence and
startling originality,
Lost in Translation
heralds the debut of a unique new voice on
the literary landscape.
Nicole Mones creates
an unforgettable story
of love and desire, of family ties and human conflict, and of one woman's struggle to lose herself in a foreign land--only to discover
her home, her heart, herself. At dawn in

Beijing, Alice
Mannegan pedals a
bicycle through the deserted streets. An American by birth, a translator by profession, she spends her nights in Beijing's smoke-filled bars, and the Chinese men she so desires never misunderstand her intentions. All around her rushes the air of China, the scent of history and change, of a world where she has come to escape her father's love and her own pain. It is a world in which, each night as she slips from her
hotel, she hopes to lose herself forever. For Alice, it began with a
phone call from an American
archaeologist seeking a translator. And it ended in an intoxicating journey of
the heart--one that would plunge her into a nation's past, and into some of the most rarely glimpsed regions of China. Hired by an archaeologist searching for the bones of Peking Man, Alice joins an expedition that

penetrates a vast,
uncharted land and
brings Professor Lin
Shiyang into her life.
As they draw closer to unearthing the secret of Peking Man, as the group's every move is followed, their every whisper recorded,
Alice and Lin find
shelter in each other,
slowly putting to rest
the ghosts of their pasts. What happens
between them becomes one of the most breathtakingly erotic
love stories in recent fiction. Indeed, Lost in Translation is a novel about love--between a
nation and its past,
between a man and a
memory, between a father and a daughter. Its powerful impact confirms the extraordinary gifts of a master storyteller, Nicole Mones.

Chains Around the Grass Simon and Schuster

Jerusalem. There she meets — re-meets — Baruch, the son of her mother's college roommate. When Tzippy last saw him, his name was Bryan and he wore a Yankees-logo yarmulke. Now he has adopted the black hat of the ultra-orthodox, the tradition in which Tzippy was raised. Twelve weeks later, they're engaged...and discovering that desire and tradition, devotion and individuality aren't the easiest balance. Hilarious, compassionate, and tremendously insightful, The

The Ladies

Auxiliary: A Novel

The Secret Book of Grazia dei Rossi is a sweeping tale of intrigue and romance set in a time rife with court politics, papal chicanery, religious intolerance, and inviolable social rules. Grazia, private secretary to the world-renowned Isabella d'Este, is the daughter of an eminent Jewish banker, the wife of the pope's Jewish physician, and the lover of a Christian prince. In a "secret book," written as a legacy for her son, she records her struggles to choose between the seductions of the Christian world and a return to the family, traditions, and duties of her Jewish roots. As she re-creates Renaissance Italy in captivating detail, Jacqueline Park gives us a timeless portrait of a brave and brilliant woman trapped in an unforgiving, inflexible society.
