So, in the lab rotation model, what you've probably figured out is that it's very similar in some respects to the station rotation model.
The difference is, in station rotation, students are rotating within a given classroom, whereas in the lab rotating out to a learning lab, where students are actually doing their online learning.

The Lab Rotation model, like a Station Rotation, allows students to rotate through stations on a fixed schedule. However, in this case, online learning occurs in a dedicated computer lab. This model allows for flexible scheduling arrangements with teachers and other paraprofessionals, and enables schools to make use of existing computer labs.
