Argument writing can be difficult to teach, but it may be the most important set of skills we teach in English.

According to the National Common Core Standards, by the end of high school, students should be able to write arguments to support claims with clear reason and relevant evidence-and they should be able to do so well . Teaching Argument Writing, Grades 6 – 12

He points out that “ many teachers begin to teach some version of argument with the writing of a thesis statement, [but] in reality, good argument begins with looking at the data that are likely to become the evidence in an argument and that give rise to a thesis statement or major claim ” (p. 26).
