Every year, the World Bank ' s World Development Report (WDR) features a topic of central importance to global development. The 2018 WDR—LEARNING to Realize Education ' s Promise—is the first ever devoted entirely to education. And the time is right: education has long been critical to human welfare, but it is even more so in a time of rapid economic and social change. The best way to equip children and youth for the future is to make their learning the center of all efforts to promote education. The 2018 WDR explores four main themes: First, education ' s promise: education is a powerful instrument for eradicating poverty and promoting shared prosperity, but fulfilling its potential requires better policies—both within and outside the education system. Second, the need to shine a light on learning: despite gains in access to education, recent learning assessments reveal that many young people around the world, especially those who are poor or marginalized, are leaving school unequipped with even the foundational skills they need for life. At the same time, internationally comparable learning assessments show that skills in many middle-income countries lag far behind what those countries aspire to. And too often these shortcomings are hidden—so as a first step to tackling this learning crisis, it is essential to shine a light on it by assessing student learning better. Third, how to make schools work for all learners: research on areas such as brain science, pedagogical innovations, and school management has identified interventions that promote learning by ensuring that learners are prepared, teachers are both skilled and motivated, and other inputs support the teacher-learner relationship. Fourth, how to make systems work for learning: achieving learning throughout an education system requires more than just scaling up effective interventions. Countries must also overcome technical and political barriers by deploying salient metrics for mobilizing actors and tracking progress, building coalitions for learning, and taking an adaptive approach to reform.

What do you look for in a mythological story? Tales of love? War? Scandal? Sacrifice? Success and failure? Pleasure and pain? Life and death? This book isn't just a collection of tales but collective wisdom of ancient Rishis seen through the prism of Dharma, Artha, Kama and Moksha. The book narrates some fascinating untold stories from Suryavamsha, the Kshatriya clan that built Ayodhya, also known as the Invincible City. It starts from the beginning of time and culminates to Suryavamsha's eventual disintegration. The stories are extractions from Rig Vedic hymns, Vishnu Purana, Matsya Purana, Shatapata Brahmana and Srimad Bhagvatam. It is a saga that interweaves simple entertaining storytelling from Indian mythology with thrilling scientific plausibility, deep spiritualism from Vedas and Upanishads and intriguing contemporary corporate lessons. Our stories may look bizarre at times, but intellectual curiosity requires you to see that they are full of symbolisms, metaphors and even contradictions. The books makes a sincere attempt to scratch the surface and look for a deeper meaning. So, let us stay curious and see mythology with awe and wonder.
