Adult learners are usually mature and self-confident enough to know how they learn best, what their areas of strength and weakness are,
and how to go about learning.
They don't require much help acquiring resources or developing goals for learning because, in most cases, they have done this before and already have reasons for being in school again.

edition, like the 5th edition, mirrors that of the previous editions authored by Leslie Petty and Jere Johnston (published by Project IDEAL at the University of Michigan), the content within each chapter has been rewritten to reflect the technology and attendant instructional shifts required for effective learning well into the 21st Century, most notably the importance of blended learning in adult education.

Perspectives on Learning ...

An adult learner or, more commonly, a mature student, is a person who is older and is involved in forms of learning. Adult learners fall in a specific criterion of being experienced, and do not always have a high school diploma. Many of the adult learners go back to school to finish a degree, or earn a new one.
