UW Drama faculty member Valerie Curtis-Newton directs Julie Kramer's adaptation of Rona Jaffe's 1958 novel. The play gives us a funny, candid, clear-eyed glimpse into the lives of working women in Mad Men -era New York, through the gaze of the women themselves (as well as fabulous costumes, of course).

In the preface to the new edition of this 1958 bestseller, author Rona Jaffe tells us that The Best of Everything is now "a sociological document," and it is certainly that: a pre-feminist era look at career girls (typists, editors, and actresses) in New York. I found myself fascinated by just how much -- and how little -- has changed for women as they search for "success" (friendship, work, love, marriage) in the city.
