Norman Mailer's "The Fight" is quite simply one of the best boxing books I have ever read. Reading Mailer the novelist writing about boxing gives you a certain novelty you will not experience in other books on sport. Norman Mailer's frustratingly flawed but sometimes brilliant account, widely regarded as a classic, of the iconic Rumble in the Jungle is the story of three men; former heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali, unstoppable new champ George Foreman and, of course, being such a narcissist he makes sure to both shove himself into the story as much as possible, refer to himself in the third person and tell us how critics mistakenly think he's a great big narcissist, Norman Mailer.
