The answers to these questions - and much, much more - are to be found in The Changing Room, which traces the origins and variations of theatrical cross-dressing through the ages and across cultures. It examines: * tribal rituals and shamanic practices in the Balkans and Chinese-Tibet * the gender-bending elements of Greek and early Christian religion * the homosexual appeal of the boy actor on the traditional stage of China, Japan and England * the origins of the dame comedian, the principal boy, the glamour drag artiste and the male impersonator * artists such as David Bowie, Boy George, Charles Ludlam, Dame Edna Everage, Lily Savage, Candy Darling, Julian Clary and the New York Dolls. Lavishly illustrated with unusual and rare pictures, this is the first ever cross-cultural study of theatrical transvestism. It is a must for anyone interested in cross-dressing, theatre, and gender.

—Leigh Haber, Oprah Magazine America's longest running advice columnist goes on the road to speak to women about hideous men and whether we need them. When E. Jean Carroll—possibly the liveliest woman in the world and author of the "Ask E. Jean" advice column in Elle Magazine, realized that her eight million readers and question-writers all seemed to have one thing in common—problems caused by men—she hit the road. Crisscrossing the country with her blue-haired poodle, Lewis Carroll, E. Jean stopped in every town named after a woman between Eden, Vermont and Tallulah, Louisiana to ask women the crucial question: What Do We Need Men For? E. Jean gave her rollicking road trip a sly, stylish turn when she deepened the story, creating a list called "The Most Hideous Men of My Life," and began to reflect on her own sometimes very dark history with the opposite sex. What advice would she have given to her past selves—as Miss Cheerleader USA and Miss Indiana University? Or as the fearless television host, and eventual advice columnist she became? E. Jean intertwines the stories of the fascinating people she meets on her road trip with her "horrible history with the male sex" (including mafia bosses, media titans, boyfriends, husbands, a serial killer, and a president), creating a decidedly dark yet hopeful, hilarious, and thrilling narrative. Her answer to the question What Do We Need Men For? will shock men and delight women. The Fitting Room FriesenPress Arihito and his party are making tremendous progress towards District Six when the unthinkable happens: a Named Monster attacks the top-ranked alliance Beyond Liberty and few days old, she only had 9 days to prepare to bring her babies home from the hospital. She had to learn quick how to put her babies on a schedule to survive. Whether you are a parent of one child or multiples, this book will teach you how to put your baby or toddler on a feeding and sleeping schedule. She will explain the rules of attachment, give advice on sleep training, how to do time ins instead of time outs, how to be prepared for hospital emergencies, how to deal with the big emotions of toddlers, how to survive the holidays and travelling and how to color code everything. She will also give you advice on how to get your child working in film and television. This book is for all parents who are trying to make their days more manageable and would rather have them filled with wonderful, positive memories instead of melt downs and tantrums. With a schedule you can learn how to anticipate your child's needs and be proactive which results in children who are happier, calmer, well behaved, and have no trouble with transitioning to different activities throughout the day.

If you are looking for some hot tips, a bit of advice and a few laughs, this is a fantastic survival guide that is a fast read that will hopefully make your most important job in the world of parenting a little bit easier.
