Brave: The Girls of South Sudan, is a new photography exhibition by the award-winning photojournalist Kate Holt, showing girls' everyday lives as they survive in the world's youngest country. Since independence in July 2011, armed conflict, economic insecurity and chronic underdevelopment in South Sudan have led to one of the world's greatest humanitarian crises, with over 4 million people displaced and 7 million without enough food to eat. Kate Middleton: Mum who snapped 'fab four' photo says ...

Kate Riordan's first novel, "The Girl in the Photograph", was one of the most atmospheric reads of last year. It contained everything we have come to associate with the good, old British Gothic Fiction. An old mansion, dual time narration, a governess that finds herself in front of dark family secrets and a touch of the Creepy and, possibly ...
