The resurrection message is the most important part of our belief system. Without the truth of the resurrection message, our faith is just another religion with no real substance. The Resurrection sets Christianity apart. This book is dedicated to establishing this truth. The extent of the work of Christ's resurrection is staggering. However, if there is one topic that is the central message of the Bible, it is the sacrifice of Christ. The Old Testament looks forward to it, whereas the New Testament looks back at it. We must be extremely careful not to allow these two ordinances to become routine in our Christian life (communion and baptism) and thereby reduce the significance of what Jesus did for us at his sacrifice and resurrection. The greatest gift that anyone can be given is eternal life, and the one that made that possible is Jesus. In Christ, we have victory, provided we see ourselves dead to sin and raised together with him. Even so, consider yourselves also dead to sin and your relation to it broken, but alive to God [living in unbroken fellowship with Him] in Christ Jesus (Romans 6:11, AMP). I have been crucified with Christ [in Him I have shared His crucifixion]; it is no longer I who live, but Christ (the Messiah) lives in me; and the life I now live in the body I live by faith in (by adherence to and reliance on and complete trust in) the Son of God, Who loved me and gave Himself up for me. [Therefore, I do not treat God's gracious gift as something of minor importance and defeat its very purpose]; I do not set aside and invalidate and frustrate and nullify the grace (unmerited favor) of God. For if justification (righteousness, acquittal from guilt) comes through [observing the ritual of] the Law, then Christ (the Messiah) died groundlessly and to no purpose and in vain. [His death was then wholly superfluous.] (Galatians 2:20-21, AMP). We need to remember that the story doesn't end with Jesus's death. He is currently in heaven, in his resurrected body, and one day, he will return. The resurrection of Jesus was an act of the supreme love of God. Remember, our identification is in who we are in Christ and his resurrection. The Bible tells us in John 14:12 that the things Christ has done we can do, and greater than these we will do because he goes to the Father. The resurrection demonstrated Jesus's victory over the power of death and confirms there is life beyond the grave. Jesus Christ offers us a resurrection power beyond ourselves that can make us alive; it empowers us to overcome the limitations of this realm with an infused ability as we focus on the Spirit of power working within us. I hope you receive much insight and revelation as you discover the wholeness of what Jesus achieved for you and me.

The Book of Form and Emptiness Penguin

Winner of the Women's Prize for Fiction "No one writes like Ruth Ozeki—a triumph." —Matt Haig, New York Times bestselling author of The Midnight Library "Inventive, vivid, and propelled by a sense of wonder." —TIME "If you've lost your way with fiction over the last year or two, let The Book of Form and Emptiness light your way home." —David Mitchell, Booker Prize-finalist author of Cloud Atlas A boy who hears the voices of objects all around him; a mother drowning in her possessions; and a Book that might hold the secret to saving them both—the brilliantly inventive new novel from the Booker Prize-finalist Ruth Ozeki One year after the death of his beloved musician father, thirteen-year-old Benny Oh begins to hear voices. The voices belong to the things in his house—a sneaker, a broken Christmas ornament, a piece of wilted lettuce. Although Benny doesn't understand what these things are saying, he can sense their emotional tone; some are pleasant, a gentle hum or coo, but others are snide, angry and full of pain. When his mother, Annabelle, develops a hoarding problem, the voices grow more clamorous. At first, Benny tries to ignore them, but soon the voices follow him outside the house, onto the street and at school, driving him at last to seek refuge in the silence of a large public library, where objects are well-behaved and know to speak in whispers. There, Benny discovers a strange new world. He falls in love with a mesmerizing street artist with a smug pet ferret, who uses the library as her performance space. He meets a homeless philosopher-poet, who encourages him to ask important questions and find his own voice amongst the many. And he meets his very own Book—a talking thing—who narrates Benny's life and teaches him to listen to the things that truly matter. With its blend of sympathetic characters, riveting plot, and vibrant engagement with everything from jazz, to climate change, to our attachment to material possessions, The Book of Form and Emptiness is classic Ruth Ozeki—bold, wise, poignant, playful, humane and heartbreaking.

Finding Hope in This World of Turmoil Macmillan

Many people today are mesmerized by the theological industry. The cost of their polished terms and invented craftiness is high, and the results are not the original conclusion the apostles had in mind. The apostles warned, "The time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but because they have itching ears, they will gather up for themselves teachers, turning their ears away from the truth, into fables." Salvation and the knowledge of God is free, as written: "Everyone who thirsts, come to the waters; come buy wine and milk, without money and without cost." But free has become a portion (autopay) of your earnings once entrapped by their spell and craftiness. It is baffling to see how, from something meant to be free, they have amassed fortunes for themselves.

No one can blame the Lord for these dishonest individual's astute heist. God Jesus told the religious men of His days, "You are in error because you do not know Scriptures or the power of God," and this is an issue in theology today. Being a believer does not make you a disciple. A disciple studies Scriptures after he/she is born again by the power of God, and all will know the Lord. A person not touched by His power can only see and hear God's invitation, the ABC of the gospel. Without the extreme touch of God (receiving the mind of Christ and/or Spirit baptism by the evidence He gives), reading Scripture is like watching a 3D movie without the 3D glasses. It will all be a blur. In fact, a disciple walks into the holy of holies and is transcended by the living touch of God, where the natural-minded believer prefers the fables to their itching ears. What sets this book apart is that it points to a path, not a conclusion. We believe it will prompt you to research scripture as the power of God gives you the insight and expand your spirit/soul by knowing and understanding the God of Scripture.
