BBW Romance The four elder Trask brothers have a plan. Worried about their youngest brother Mitch turning into a hermit, they secretly hire Sophie Matthews to redesign his garden, hoping he'll fall in love with her. When Sophie arrives at Mitch Trask's ranch for her first landscape design job (and that's all she thinks it is), she doesn't know what to expect, but has visions of creating a stunning showpiece. Instead, all Mitch is interested in is not being bothered by anyone, especially a curvy girl like her! When the reclusive writer and horse rescuer finally concedes to the garden design, he only gives her a small area to demonstrate her newly acquired skills. After freak weather hits the secluded ranch, they get a chance to know each other better. And before long, Sophie starts falling for Mitch. But will Mitch fall for her, and her curves? Can the youngest Trask brother with a stubborn heart learn to love again? Or will he miss out on his one chance of a lifetime love? This is a contemporary romance novella of approximately 32,000 words.

Although it's part of the Billionaire Brothers series, it can be read as a stand-alone romance. EXCERPT: "Thanks for helping me," she said breathlessly. She knew she had to gather up her sketches and purse, but right this very second she couldn't do anything else except look into his eyes. Silence filled the garden. She felt pinned to the spot by his intense gaze, his dark brown eyes backlit by a smoldering warmth. A faint scent of clean hay tantalized her senses. His head lowered, his mouth descending. Her heartbeat quickened, but she was rooted to the spot. All she could do was watch helplessly as his lips came closer and closer ... His mouth moved over hers. Warmth was the first sensation she registered. His lips tasted and teased, until she was ready to throw her arms around his neck and urge him even closer. Before she could make a move, it was over. He'd stepped back and straightened up, his mouth nowhere near hers, her lips suddenly bereft. Mitch gathered up her things lying on the grass and handed them to her, his hands not touching hers - at all. "Are you okay to drive back?" He had a shuttered expression on his face. "I'll be fine," she assured him, although at that very moment she didn't feel anything but.

"A lively, exciting, and definitely thought-provoking book." —Booklist Things looked grim for American energy in 2006, but a handful of wildcatters were determined to tap massive deposits of oil and gas that giants like Exxon and Chevron had ignored. They risked everything on a new process called fracking. Within a few years, they solved America's dependence on imported energy, triggered a global environmental controversy, and made and lost astonishing fortunes. No one understands the frackers—their ambitions, personalities, and foibles—better than Wall Street Journal reporter Gregory Zuckerman. His exclusive access drives this dramatic narrative, which stretches from North Dakota to Texas to Wall Street.

When Cassie's car breaks down in Coldwater Springs, Wyoming, she's in a bind. On the run, she doesn't know who she can trust. Until she meets Luke Jackson. The hunky rancher captures her heart and helps her face her fears. But can he convince her that he's fallen in love with her, and her curves?

EXCERPT: Luke opened the front door. "Thanks," she said again, turning to face him. Tilting her head a little, she smiled up at him. "I should be the one thanking you." His voice was low. She couldn't break free from his molten brown gaze. "Cassie," he murmured, catching a strand of her auburn hair in his fingers. She caught her breath, her insides melting into a pool of warm chocolate. Was he going to kiss her? She waited for a long second, not daring to say or do anything that would break the sensual moment. His mouth slowly descended, brushing hers. She returned the light pressure of his lips. His strong arm wrapped around her waist, drawing her closer as he caressed her lips once more. She breathed in his scent of honeyed hay, wishing the kiss would never end... This is a sexy contemporary romance novelette of approximately 12,700 words. Early thirties. Much taller than her height of five foot five. Black hair. Black leather jacket. Tough jaw. Straight nose. Eyes of midnight blue. His eyes swept over the diner, seeming to take everything in at an instant. And then he saw her. Honor froze. It wasn't the guy from this morning. But he was here for her. She knew it! For a second she couldn't breathe, then she couldn't stop. I think I'm hyperventilating. "Here, sweetie." Betty appeared with a paper bag.

"Breathe into this." Honor sank back against the leatherette booth cushions, clutching the paper bag to her face, trying to slow her breathing.

"Can I help you?" Betty asked the stranger. Out of the corner of her eye, Honor saw Betty turn to the man who had entered - no, strode into - the diner. The man who had come for her. "I think I've found who I'm looking for," the man replied, his eyes fixed on Honor. He took another step toward the booth, but Betty blocked his path. "Not so fast, handsome. Give her some space." Honor concentrated on breathing into the paper bag. In, out. In, out. She did not want to think about anything else. Finally, her breathing calmed and she felt able to take away the bag from her lips. Until she saw him watching her every movement. "Honor Crenshaw?" He flashed a badge at her. She glimpsed the word Marshal on it. "I'm Max Kirkson. I'm here to take you back to Laramie so you can testify."
