Inheriting an apartment with a view of the coast in Sicily sounded like something out of a movie, but after two years watching a resort she'd always loved fall to pieces she's ready to throw in the proverbial towel...that is until one of the owners finally walked into her office. Tall, dark, and devastatingly handsome, the man would drive her crazy with his arguments if he didn't set her aflame with his kisses. Billionaire Nicolò Romano is a global citizen. He's the kind of guy who skis in the Alps, snorkels in the Caribbean, and enjoys the lights of the Vegas strip on a whim. He has no desire to be tied down any time soon. So when he and his brothers inherit the family resort, Nicolò has one goal: Sell it and sell it fast. But coming back to the place he loved as a child to find a woman who feels just as passionately about the crumbling hotel throws him. It's a project that Gianpierre has the passion for, but not the time—not if he wants to make it to Dubai for the start date of his dream project. That is until he's paired with a pretty project manager who makes him want to get passionate about more than just medieval foundations. Luciana Vivaldi rushed to Italy to care for her niece after the death of her sister, and then fell in love with the culture and people. Beautiful and whip smart, she's been recruited to keep the Romano Resort's hunky structural engineer focused and to take him to task if he doesn't follow his own directives. She's got a passion for organizing and no time for romance—that is until a kiss following a falling foundation has her doing the one thing she can't afford: falling for her boss. However, now that his brothers have done their parts in securing and remodeling the hotel, it's up to Leonardo to do what he does best: entice visitors to revel in the lap of luxury. Stella Brown is on her last strike. As a historical preservationist she's just committed the mortal sin of losing a historical property to modern renovations, therefore losing a piece of history. Forever. Now Stella is tasked with proving she can still do her job by halting the Romano Resort's extravagant renovations and getting them to conform to international preservation laws. Stella isn't a pushy person, but she's ready to go to war to save this little piece of Sicily.

Wrangling His Best Friend's Sister Ava Pearson needs a job—yesterday. After her husband's death, her life in the city became impossible, and a crisis with her young son caused her to lose her job as a reporter. Now Ava is living in her childhood home again, without prospects, but not without hope. If she can just get enough money to tide her over while she pitches an article to an even better big-city paper, Ava feels she can get back on track. The only problem is...what jobs are available in her one-horse town? Branson Beckett is successful by most measures of the word. He's the owner of a profitable ranch on the brink of expansion and is now looking for a few good ranch hands to help him out. However, he wasn't thinking of his best friend's little sister when it came to hard labor. No, he'd thought of her in other hard situations, but they usually involved the dark of night and his great big bed. Dreams that had no place in reality. Wrangling His Sexy Assistant Veterinarian Hunter Beckett just got roped into his nightmare: a bachelor auction to raise funds for a local charity. While he's a hottie, most in town see him as a curmudgeon, a man who manages to be cranky, even after he's saved your dog's life. But when women start bidding on him like crazy—one aggressive hairdresser in particular—Hunter's in need of a savior and finds it in the form of Kit, his veterinary resident. It's a mercy purchase, but one that puts him in a bind: Kit wants something in return. Kit Cowie's come all the way out to the boonies because of her love of large animal medicine, and because Hunter needs a new resident—badly. But now that she's got the job, she finds that Hunter is only holding her back, making her give shots to puppies while he's off doing what she'd really love: fixing broken bones and saving horses' lives. Now that she's rescued him from the auction, Kit hopes she can leverage this to get more access in the office. What she didn't expect is for Hunter to follow the rules of the bachelor auction—or for their date to go so wonderfully right, ending with a sizzling kiss. But Hunter is sure that the kiss was a mistake and believes they should keep things professional between them. However, the more time he spends with Kit, the more his emotions beg him to see this relationship to passionate fruition, even though he knows Kit is only here for a rotation until her position at her own family's vet clinic goes into effect and she's gone forever. Wrangling His Pregnant Cowgirl Scout Beckett has always wanted to run a ranch, not just work it under the purview of his older sibling. He wants to do something different from his family's horses and beef cattle: he wants to own a dairy farm. To this end, Scout has been working on one as a foreman, and his mentor had always promised it would be Scout's after he passed. But when the owner dies, he wills it to his city-slicker granddaughter instead; leaving Scout in charge of a farm that will never be his. Stella has worked for a nonprofit for years, helping to feed starving children in third-world countries. When she comes home for the funeral to say goodbye to her grandfather, the only stability she's ever known, she finds herself falling into the arms of sexy cowboy Scout when shared loss and simple comfort turns to a night of passion before they each go their separate ways. But three months later, Stella returns to the ranch, faced with the stipulations of her grandfather's will: she must stay for the better part of the year, or lose the ranch to charity. Not only that, but she has to tell her one-night stand that he's going to be a daddy. When the shock of her pregnancy wears off, Stella vows to ride out the will 's rule and get back to her old life as soon as possible.
