slantwise and at
considerable length,
the 20th century's
most sensational archaeological event. The most

King
Tutankhamen's

have the major players tell the tale—Howard
Carter, principal archaeologist, and his financier and mentor, Lord Carnarvon (resident
earl of Highclere

The Sisters Mortland by Sally Beauman - Goodreads
The Visitors by Sally Beauman. R 300.00. A book about secrets and revelations, The Visitors brings to life the mysteries of ancient Egypt – its pyramids, its kings, its gods and its profound fascination with the afterlife. It also unveils the world of the archaeologists and Egyptologists who excavated Tutankhamun’s tomb in the 1920’s.

Beauman does a great job with her 1920s Luxor and England settings, and it's fun to see Highclere Castle, the residence of Lord Carnarvon, get another fictional use (its where Downton Abbey is filmed).  Sally Beauman is an excellent storyteller and her use of the tarot to flesh
 this novel out was intriguing. Her descriptions of the abbey and Suffolk,

England are very precise. A bit long, a bit confusing but all in all a good read. I definetly will go back and read another of Ms. Beuman's books.
